Bettie, 73, died about 8:30 p.m. on September 7, 1939 in the Linville District of Rockingham County, Virginia when she "fell off of a high roof," fractured her skull and vertebrae, and was "killed instantly." Bettie's death was ruled as an accident. She was buried in Singers Glen, Rockingham County, Virginia. Bettie was survived by Jacob, her husband of 40 years, and their two children.

Note: Bettie's death was most peculiar. Her husband and children were all enumerated in Norfolk, Virginia in 1940, where they had lived since sometime prior to the 1920 census. Why Bettie was in Rockingham County at the time of her death, and why, at 73, was she up on a high roof? One might speculate that her death was not an accident but a suicide.

On the retreat [they] took part in the fight at Saylor's Creek, Virginia with but two commissioned company officers in the tenth: Lieut. John H. Ralston, who was badly wounded and left in the hands of the enemy ...." {source: A History of Rockingham Co., Va., by John W. Wayland, Ph.D., page 140} It is said that he was initially mistaken for dead. His personal effects were gathered up and sent home to his presumed widow. He is said to have arrived home as family and friends were preparing for his memorial services.

She died in Jan 1932 in Virginia (age 96). She married Benjamin Franklin Cromer, son of Joseph Cromer and Mary Harnsbarger, on 06 Nov 1855 in Rockingham Co., Va.. He was born on 18 Oct 1834 in Virginia. He died on 30 Nov 1918 in Ottobine, Rockingham Co., Va. (age 84).

Notes for Ellen Rolston:

Ellen Rolston was born October 18, 1835 in Rockingham County, Virginia, the seventh of fifteen children born to David H. Rolston III and Francis "Fannie" Beery.

On November 6, 1855 in Rockingham County, Virginia, Ellen, age 19, married Benjamin Franklin Cromer. Their farm was near Ottobine and situated on a knoll just above Beaver's Creek. Ellen and Benjamin farmed there and began to raise a family. When her husband Benjamin enlisted in First Virginia Cavalry in 1861, Ellen stayed home with the children. Benjamin was wounded in the battle of Bull Run and moved to the University Hospital at Charlottesville. Ellen was determined to bring him home to convalesce although official permission had been denied. A black man living at Benjamin's sister Evaline and Rudy's place accompanied Ellen to Charlottesville to get her husband. They drove a buckboard wagon as far as Staunton, stabled the horse, and took a Virginia Railroad (now C&O) train to Charlottesville. Appalled by the unsanitary, untrained, understaffed, and undersupplied conditions at Charlottesville, Ellen requested permission to speak with Surgeon General (Dr. Neff?). She begged Dr. Neff to let her husband come home to be nursed back to health; the Army was adamant in its refusal. Ellen borrowed a carriage and horse, climbed in a window of the hospital near Benjamin, and carried him away.

When Union Col. Philip Sheridan was ravaging the area around Rockingham County, perhaps late summer, for the corn was high, Ellen saw several of his mounted soldiers approach the house, and hid her husband in the cornfield. The Union soldiers tore up the house looking for a "Johnny Reb". They raided the spring house, stealing supplies, and threatened to burn the barn as a lesson to others. Ellen pleaded with them not to burn the barn, when one soldier suggested they search the cornfield for the soldier. Benjamin was able to crawl away and avoided being caught.

Ellen and Benjamin had 13 children. The large family was enumerated in the 1880 census of Ashby Township in Rockingham County, Virginia, under the surname of Croomer:

In the 1930 census of Rockingham County, Virginia, daughter Ida was still living at home. Also residing with them was niece, Mildred V. Cromer:

On November 6, 1855 in Rockingham County, Virginia, Benjamin married Ellen Rolston. The couple farmed and started a family only to have their lives interrupted by the Civil War. Benjamin did not believe in slavery, but was a strong supporter of states rights, so in April of 1861, at the age of 26, he enlisted as a volunteer at Harrisonburg, Virginia in the First Virginia Cavalry under Capt. Thomas Yancey. His wife Ellen stayed home with the children, Harvey, Mary, and Erasmus. After brief training, he was attached to a cavalry unit supporting General Thomas Jonathan Jackson's troops. He saw his first major combat action in the first battle of Manassas, or Bull Run, in July 1861. At Bull Run, he took a minie ball through the jaw which penetrated the back of his throat and lodged next to his spine in the lower neck. He was treated in the field, then moved by wagon ambulance to either Culpeper or Gordonsville, and later to University Hospital at Charlottesville. Benjamin survived and returned to his family.

Benjamin's brother-in-law, Rudolph Myers, who married his sister Evaline, hired a substitute rather than enlist in the Confederate army. It is said that Benjamin never spoke to his brother-in-law again.

Benjamin was not found in the 1880 census, but he remained in Rockingham County, Virginia.

Benjamin, 84, died November 30, 1918 in Ottobine, Rockingham County, Virginia and was buried in the Ottobine United Methodist Church Cemetery in Rockingham County, Virginia.

On Christmas Eve, 1890 in Rockingham County, Virginia, Lila, age 19, married John Miner Cromer, age 24. Over the course of their marriage, the couple had thirteen children. Their marriage was perhaps turbulent at times. Her husband was not present in the 1900 census, and they may have been separated at that time.

The family, including her husband, were living on a small farm in the Ashby District of Rockingham County, Virginia, where they were enumerated during the 1910 census. Nine children had been born to the couple when the census taker visited them on May 9, 1910. The following day, the couple's tenth child was born. Living two houses away from Lila and her family was Jacob Wine, age 51. His relationship to Lila is not known; he was perhaps an uncle.

Four more children were born to the couple after 1910, the last two being twins. Sometime after the twin's birth, the couple divorced, and her husband married a younger woman. Lila moved to Orange County, Virginia with the four youngest children and her older son Frank. Lila was a farmer with the help of her son Frank.

Lila, 76, died May 28, 1948. Although her place of death and burial are unknown, she is assumed to have remained in Orange County until her death.

History of Harrison County Iowa, National Publishing Company, 1891, pp. 920-921

William H. Burkholder, who came to Harrison County February 7, 1862, and is now a resident of section 8, Douglas Township, was born July 29, 1840, in Knox County, Ohio. His father, Isaac Burkholder, was born in Rockingham County, Va., and was married in the same county to Miss Sarah Ralston, and they were the parents of five children, our subject being the youngest. The father died in Richland County, Ill., and the mother in Knox County, Ohio.

William H., our subject, settled in Douglas Township in the spring of 1867, purchasing forty acres on section 16, in the spring of 1866. Upon this tract he built a house during the winter of 1866-67, having broken up his land in the summer of 1866. At this time his wife was one of the first school teachers in the township, and here they remained until 1882, when he sold out and purchased his present farm.

Upon arriving in Harrison County our subject worked for L.D. Butler in his sawmill near the present site of Woodbine, and later for J.H. Farnsworth, where he staid until the fall of 1862, and then went to Washington County, Iowa, where he remained until the spring of 1863, then returned to Harrison County, renting a farm in Douglas Township. In the summer of 1864 he worked a part of James Farnsworth's farm, and in November, 1864, he enlisted as a member of Company E, of the Thirteenth Iowa Infantry, and served in the Army of the Tennessee under Gen. "Pap" Thomas in his campaign with Hood. From about the last of November until December 19, when Hood commenced to retreat, and for the next month they were trying to cut Hood off. They finally returned to Nashville, Tenn., and there took boat for Jeffersonville, Ind., from which point they were conveyed by train to Cincinnati; remained over night and on to Ohio to Pittsburgh, from there to Annapolis, Md., where they took the transport "Argyle" to Moorhead, N.C., arriving at that point February 8, 1865, and marched from there to Newbern N.C., where they remained a month, thence to Wise's Forks, where they had an engagement, after which they went Kingston, and from there to Goldsboro, and joined Gen. Sherman's command. On the return "march from the sea" they went to Greensboro, where Johnson surrendered without an engagement. From this point they came to Raleigh and went into camp, remained three weeks, then marched to Richmond, and thence to Washington, D.C., and took part in the greatest military reunion the world has every witnessed - the Grand Review. After about a week's sojourn in Washington, our subject, with his company, went to Louisville, Ky., where they remained until they were mustered out of service, July 28, 1865, and then went to Davenport, Iowa, where he received his final discharge August 28, 1865, and on September 20 reached Harrison County, and at once engaged in farming.

He was married to Miss Carrie M. Ackley April 10, 1866, by whom six children - Eliza M., Herbert A.,

Enoch Ralston is dead at the age of 95. He passed away this morning at 6 o'clock.

Prevo Ralston of West Union, Clark County, Ill., was at the bedside of his brother when the end came.

Richard M. and Rachel R. Ralston were the parents of eleven children, seven boys and four girls. Six sons grew to manhood. Five were soldiers in the Grand Army of the Republic.

Enoch was the first born and Prevo, the youngest child, were all of the family living at the ninety-fifth birthday of the elder son, celebrated on the 8th of last November.

The subject of this sketch was born on White River, White County, Ind. When a child he went with his parents to Clark County, Ill., where he grew to manhood and was united in marriage to Mary Spivey. Their union was blessed with seven children. Of these three died when small. Emily, Joseph, Mary and Harvey grew to maturity and are still living.

Since 1865 Kankakee county has been his home and Momence his last residence.

In 1862 he enlisted in the federal army and served his term, receiving an honorable discharge. Enlisting again he served until the close of the war and was again honorably discharged.

At the age of fourteen he was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, of which he was a faithful member for 81 years. At the last quarterly meeting he was present and joyfully partook of the holy sacrament of the Lord's supper.

Mr. Ralston was a mason by trade and in the days of his active work labored faithfully at his occupation.

For more than a week he has been consciously approaching his end. Prayer and song has marked the days that have brought him to his coronation.

The close of life has been a welcome event. The joys of a better world have tempered the sorrowful departure from the loved ones of earth.

". . . You ask me if I had heard any more from Sil & if Tom was in Washington yet. Poor man. He is there but under the sod. He was killed the 11th day of this month while unloading logs out of cars into the lake. He had unloaded one car & then go down to the lake & out upon a boom log to clear them away so he could unload another car & while he was at this the logs begun to roll down the chute & one of them struck him in the breast & knocked him into the water. He scrambled upon a log & cried for help. There was but one man there with him. He was a car repairer. He heard him & run & got him out on the bank & ask him if he was badly hurt & if he should go & get some help & Tom said no hold me & I'll be all right in a minute. The man soon ask him again & he made the same reply but he soon closed his eyes in unconsciousness. He then laid him back on the ground & went for help. They took him home. The Dr. said several ribs broken 7 recovery was impossible but soon breathed his last. They put a subscription in circulation & soon realized $102.25. It took $75.00 to pay funeral expenses & the rest was given to his wife. I am writing all the particulars but not every word that was on the slip of paper that Sil cut out of the newspaper & sent to me. It said they had up a petition going around asking that she be appointed post mistress in his place. It was being signed where ever it went. That is all that is necessary for me to tell you about him. . . ."

The Alabama Courier (Athens, Alabama), July 23, 1931

At his late home at Stewart Cross Roads last Friday morning about half past ten o'clock, Frank Dougherty, one of the most popular and useful men of his community, dropped dead suddenly just after returning home from an inspection of his crops.

He was as well as usual the morning when he arose and ate his meal, and after breakfast he went out on the farm and spent an hour or so, and returning to his home near his store, he said he felt a pain in his stomach and decided to take a dose of soda, and walked to his dining room to get it and immediately fell and expired.

He had lived for many years in that community, has farmed and operated a store at the cross roads and his life had been both active and helpful to the entire section where he resided. No man had more friends or was more genuinely appreciated by the people of his locality than was Mr. Dougherty. A high type Christian gentleman, his first thought was always for his home and his community. He loved and lived to make his section a better place in which to live and rear families. He was always interested in education, in good roads and in churches. A faithful attendant at church and Sunday school, always being recognized as a leader for the best things for his community and for his neighbors, he spent a useful life and his death removes one of the most varied and capable men of that section of the county.

He is survived by his splendid wife, Abbie Copley Dougherty, who has been his aid in all things that he was interested in for the community, and has given him loyal support. In addition to his good wife, several children, all grown, are left to comfort her by the sudden

When he was a boy of 18, the family, consisting of father and mother and several children, went to Kansas to make their home. They settled on a farm near Stockton, Rook County, Kansas. A year or two of fighting prairie fires, building sod houses, cradling grain and going to the mill was enough for him, so with his cousins he went back home to Iowa. Being a ferryman on the Old Muddy at Nebraska City failed to hold any charms for him, so he joined a freighter's crew and went to Wyoming in the early eighties.

In 1889 he took homestead in Grove county, Kansas. In the early 90's he moved to Minden, Nebraska. He met Mamie E. Seberg at Axtel, and they were married at her home near Upland, January 9, 1894.

As many generations back as can be traced the Husbands were not only builders of brick, stone and wood, but were also builders of strong and quite characters. Like father, like son, he ran true to course and followed this trade for 50 years, and many towns of central and west Nebraska and Kansas bear testimony of his work.

In the fall of 1894, they moved to Kansas, then to the farm six miles south of Alma, later moving to Upland. January 1, 1904, he moved to Alma, having contracted for the building of the Harlan County Bank building and several other jobs, and has been a continuous resident of this town ever since.

Tuesday he took his bed. Flu and heart trouble did their work and he passed away at midnight, March 18, 1932, at the age of 71 years, 3 months and 13 days.

He leaves to mourn his death, his loving tender wife; seven children: Lulu Bright of Wallace, Nebr.; J. V. Husband of North Platte, Nebr; Grace Imhof of Seldon, Kansas; Nancy Ibsen of Upland, Nebr.; Iva and Pearle of Alma; six grandchildren; three brothers: Pete S. of Aztec, N. M.; William and P. D. of Alma; three sisters: Mrs. C. A. Fleming of Penokee, Kansas, Mrs. Rachael Frost of Goodland, Kansas, and Miss Emma Husband of Alma; besides a host of other relatives and friends.

While not affiliated with any church, he publicly acknowledged Christ several years ago and has left many good examples and tender memories to his loved ones and hundreds of friends.

Interment was made in the Alma Cemetery.

S.J. BATSON

Samuel J. Batson, who was born October 17, 1830, in Henry county, Indiana, is a son of Nathaniel Batson, born in Ohio, February 24, 1808. He was a son of Samuel Batson, a native of New Jersey and of Welsh descent. The maternal parent of the subject and wife of Nathaniel Batson was Nancy (Ralston) Batson, born in the state of Kentucky, January 9, 1812. She was the daughter of James Ralston and came with her parents to Wayne county, Indiana. She grew to womanhood in Henry county, Indiana, where she met and married Nathaniel Batson, who had come to Henry county with his parents when he was fifteen years old, about the year 1823.

Nathaniel Batson, after his marriage, settled in Henry county and engaged in farming there until the spring of 1837, when they moved to Wells County, Indiana, and there entered four hundred and sixty-two acres of land in section 11, Jackson township. This land was in the wood, the nearest neighbor being distant one mile and the next nearest two miles away. Nathaniel and Nancy Batson spent the remainder of their lives in Wells County, where they both died, Nathaniel in 1878 and Nancy in 1881. They were the parents of twelve children: Samuel J., the subject; Lavina, deceased; Esther, deceased; Nathaniel died in infancy; Andrew Jackson died in infancy; William died in Oklahoma; Mary, deceased; Martin, now a resident of Bluffton, Indiana; Eliza Jane, the wife of Henry Roush, now living near Mt Zion, Indiana; Sarah, deceased; John, and Nancy, the wife of Andrew Gephart.

The subject was schooled in the subscription schools in Jackson township, the present admirable common school system not having been developed at that time in the locality. The sessions of the school where the subject attended were held in an old log cabin with greased paper for window lights, slab seats and puncheon flooring. Samuel attended his last term of school when he was about nineteen years of age. He then remained at home with his father until his marriage. He was married January 15, 1852, to Catherine Huffman, born December 11, 1832. Her parents, Henry and Elizabeth (Eversole) Huffman, were natives of Clark county, Ohio, but settled later in Jackson township, Wells County, Indiana. Elizabeth died in Ohio and Henry in Wells County, Indiana. Henry was twice married, his second wife being Catherine Baker. To his first union four children were born, all of whom are yet living: Jacob, a resident of Huntington county, Indiana; Catherine, the wife of the subject; Sarah, the wife of Isaac Jones, and Peter, a resident of Ohio. To his second union ten children were born: Frederick, Mary S., deceased, George, Samuel, Evelyn, Levi, John, Lydia, Eliza and Henry. After his marriage the subject settled on the farm and in the same house in which he now lives; he and his father hewed out the logs of which it is built. The house has had three roofs since it was built, the father shaving the shingles for the first, and the subject those for the second roofing, but he had to buy the material for the third and last covering, which is still in good condition.

When the wife of the subject was a girl she was an adept in the accomplishments of weaving, spinning, etc., which were common housewifely occupations in those days, when they made all their own clothing. She yet retains a spinning wheel which belonged to an aunt. The subject cleared up the land on which he now lives. As he says, he had to "dig it out." He is the father of nine children, seven of whom are yet living: Nathaniel, born August 9, 1853, married Mary Wyley September 28, 1882, and is the father of three boys, Firman, an oil pumper, Aubrey and Oris; Sarah, the second child, was born August 1, 1855, and is now the wife of Henry Swaim: she was first married to William Smithson, to which union five children were born, William E., Franklin, Lloyd, Clinton and Edith; to her second marriage two children have been born, Alva and Orval Swaim; the third child of the subject, Henry, was born December 27, 1857, married Sarah J Sills, and they are the parents of three children, Dessa, Letha and Mary T; the fifth child, Nancy C., was born February 26, 1862, is the wife of Henry King and has one son, Frank; Mary E. was born July 8, 1860, and is the wife of A.J. Faust, a resident of Nottingham township, Wells County, and has three children, Ada May, Clara B. and Catharine; Ella M, born July 6, 1864, is the wife of Homer Knott, of Hartford City, Indiana, and they have two children, Winona and Inez; Elnora, born July 21, 1867, was the wife of John Click, but died August 10, 1893, leaving one child, Orta; Laura A., born April 3, 1874, wife of Lawson J Beavans, has four children, Leha, Fay, Jesse and James M; Clara Belle, born October 3, 1876, died August 28, 1891.

Mr Batson has been a general stock farmer. He is in the oil field and has on his farm six producing wells, making seven inches (tank measure) a day, which yields him a profit of fifteen or twenty dollars per month. He has devoted his whole life to farming, occasionally helping to run a threshing machine in the fall of the year. Mr. Batson now owns forty acres of land on which he lives. He and his wife are both connected with the Campbellite (Christian) church, of which they are consistent members. Politically the subject has always acted and voted with the Democratic party. He is of a class which is rapidly passing away and has witnessed all the stages of development of his locality from a comparative wilderness to its present highly improved and well cultivated condition. He has seen the evolution in temples of learning from the log cabin with puncheon floors and greased paper window lights, and subscription school, to the palatial buildings now devoted to the uses of the common schools of the country, and in all the multitudinous and laborious changes that have transformed the face of nature he has well borne his part. In the course of nature it will not be many years until the last of these hardy pioneers will be gathered to their fathers. While it is scarcely possible for the present generation to realize what they have passed, the greatest compliment they can pay to their memory is to emulate their example.

Notes for Catherine Huffman:
Her father was twice married.

Samuel James Batson and Catherine Huffman had the following children:

Nathaniel Batson was born August 9, 1853 in Wells County, Indiana, the eldest of nine children born to Samuel James Batson and Catherine Huffman. He was the grandson of Nathaniel Batson and Nancy Ralston. Nathaniel grew up on the family farm, but farming was not his career. In 1880, Nathaniel was enumerated with his sister, Mrs. Sarah Smithson, and was working as a carpenter.

On September 28, 1882 in Wells County, Indiana, Nathaniel, age 29, married Mary E. Rinear, age 26. She was formerly the Miss Mary E. Wyley. Five children are attributed to Mary; one had died prior to the 1900 census. Three of the five children are known to have been fathered by Nathaniel.

In the 1900 census, the relationship of the children to the head of household was done completely wrong, and it is uncertain as to who provided the information. Nora, John and George Swaim were Henry's children from his first marriage and should have been listed as grandchildren to the head of household. Frank Smithson, Sarah's son from her first marriage, should have been listed as a step-grandson.

Sarah, 52, preceded her husband in death on April 25, 1908 and was buried in the Odd Fellows Cemetery in Montpelier, Blackford County, Indiana.

Bluffton, Indiana Evening News, Saturday, April 25, 1908, page 2 column 5:

Mrs. Henry Swaim Died Friday

Wife Of Jackson Township Trustee Had Long Been An Invalid

Mrs. Sarah Swaim, wife of Trustee Henry Swaim of Jackson township, passed away Friday afternoon at her home, after a period of invalidism extending over five or six years. The physicians had been unable to determine the exact nature of her affliction which involved the kidneys and liver. She had taken treatment extensively and was in a hospital at Ft. Wayne for a time. She had grown better, apparently this spring and last Tuesday went to Montpelier with her husband. That night she was stricken with chills, and other attacks followed and death came in one of these attacks Friday.

Mrs. Swaim was a daughter of Samuel and Catherine Batson, both of whom are living, and also leaves her husband and two sons, Alva and Orval, by her second marriage, to Mr. Swaim, while four children survive by a former marriage. They are Lloyd, Elmer and Linton Smithen, and Mrs. Edith Younce. Brothers and sisters who survive her are Nathaniel and Henry Batson, and Medsames Charles Beavens, Andy Foust and Homer Knott.

The funeral will be held Sunday at two o'clock at the Prairie creek church at the little town known as Chicago, and burial will take place in the Odd Fellows cemetery at Montpelier. Rev. Horton will have charge of the services.

Mr. Colbert was a native of Wells county and had spent most of his life in Jackson township. He was elected trustee of the township in 1895 and served four years. Shortly after retiring from the office he was taken ill with lung trouble and spent some time in California and Mexico in hope of regaining his health but his effort was fruitless. Since returning home he was unable to work though he was not confined to his bed. For several years he and his son owned a general store at Mount Zion. B. A. Batson Dies Michigan Hospital

Former Postmaster and Surveyor Here Dies This Morning

Benjamin Alonzo (Lon) Batson, aged about 72, former county surveyor of Wells county and postmaster here for a period of eight years, died early this morning in a hospital at Three Rivers, Mich., following an illness of a few days.

He became ill while he was engaged in his occupation as a supervisor of highways in that area and his condition was reported to have been attributed to an anemic condition superinduced by attacks of pneumonia he had experienced in recent years. Blood transfusions at the hospital gave only temporary relief.

The decedent was a native of Wells county, a son of the late Martin V. B. Batson and Hester Stonebrook Batson, pioneer residents of Jackson township. His parents resided in Bluffton many years.

Elected in 1898

Mr. Batson became active in county civic and political affairs and was elected county surveyor in 1898 and served in that position four years. While in that position he served also as city engineer to the extent of making necessary surveys for public improvements and in supervision of such work. He served later also in the position of city engineer, the statutes at that time providing for a position carrying that title.

He served several years as Democratic county chairman, and was appointed postmaster in 1913, to fill a vacancy caused by the death of L. F. Roush. He served as postmaster eight years, from Oct. 23, 1913 to May 1, 1921. He resigned the post-mastership to fulfill his desire to engage in an agricultural occupation and he and his family moved onto a farm near Constantine and Three Rivers, Mich., and had been continuous residents of that locality since.

His experience and ability as an engineer brought him an appointment as highway supervisor, a position he had filled for a period of years.

The marriage of Mr. Batson and Miss Ella North took place in this city. She survives, with a foster daughter, Mrs. Louise Krajce, of Niles, Mich., and a granddaughter. A sister, Mrs. Ida Brickley, is deceased.

Mrs. Batson, the widow, is a sister of Mrs. Sarah Fitzpatrick and Mrs. Blanche McClain, of this city, and they and Mrs. Fitzpatrick's son, Raymond, left for Three Rivers shortly after receiving word of Mr. Batson's death.

Funeral arrangements had not been learned here late this afternoon, but it was believed that burial would take place here.

Notes for James Harvey Craig Brown:

Buried as J. H. C. Brown 1858-1947.

Biography, undisclosed source, written before 1926:

James Harvey Craig Brown, a prosperous lumber dealer of Farmington, has been engaged in this business here for the past four years and for the same length of time has operated the Iowa Central Elevator at this point.

He is a native of this county, born in Astoria, March 12, 1856, and a son of the well-known honored pioneer Methodist minister, the Rev. A. F. Brown. His mother Martha E. (Craig) Brown, was born in Ohio, was well educated in its schools and was a school teacher.

The Rev. Abraham F. Brown was born at Louisville, Ky., of which his parents were early pioneers. They were of Welsh descent and when he was quite young they removed to Ohio, afterwards to Indiana, and in 1818 came to Illinois, and were among the very first settlers of this county, locating within a quarter of a mile of the present site of the village of Astoria, where they built a log cabin and lived a pioneer life among the Indians.

In Kentucky he had to go a distance of three miles to school. In Illinois there were no schools when he came here and many a night did he study by torch or candle light till one or two o'clock in the morning, his Bible being his principal text book. When a young man he was appointed commissioner to lay out the first roads in Fulton and Schuyler Counties.

Mr. Brown was naturally of a religious turn of mind and was converted to Methodism in 1833. He was licensed as an exhorter August 25, 1834, and to preach March 26, 1838. He was desired to take a position as a stationary minister, but he preferred to do evangelical work. He was very much opposed to slavery and supported the Whig party. He was organized many churches and was always in favor of education and progress. This consistent and devoted Christian passed from the scenes of his useful labors in 1882, at the age of seventy-six years. He had ever done what he could to advance the kingdom of God upon earth and the world had been made better by his living in it.

The Rev. Mr. Brown was twice married; his second wife the mother of our subject was a daughter of John and Rebecca Craig, who came from Scotland to America and were pioneers of Ohio. She came to Illinois for her health and taught in the northern part of the State several years before her marriage. She had three children, James H. C., Cummings F., and Samuel L., (who died at the age of fourteen years.)

Cummings is a machinist, making his home in Kansas City, Mo., although he travels for a large agricultural house. He married Miss Alice Ham and has two children.

James Harvey Craig Brown of whom we write, was reared in Astoria, and was educated in its schools. His father, like the most of the Methodist ministers of his day, devoted so much of his time to his Christian labors that he did not accumulate a very large property, although he was in comfortable circumstances and owned a good farm of eighty acres, and on that old homestead our subject was trained to a useful life. At the age of twenty-one he was married to Miss Louisa A. Hettrick, a native of Astoria. To them have come two children-Maude E. and Pearl T.

Mr. And Mrs. Brown have a beautiful suburban home adjoining the city on the south. Here he erected a handsome residence and has twenty acres of well improved land around it.

Mrs. Brown's father, William Hettrick was an old settler and a well-to-do farmer of Astoria, entering his farm on section 21, March 6, 1837. He was a native of Cumberland County, Pa., and December 13, 1839, was married to Ella Ann Brand, who died some nine years before he did. His death occurred December 17, 1883, at the age of sixty-eight years, nine months and eight days. He came to this State from Virginia where his parents had settled when he was quite young. He lived in Edgar County two years and thence moved to Bernadotte and there worked at his trade of a tailor two years. At the expiration of that time he turned his attention to farming, taking up the tract of Government land before mentioned in that part of Astoria then known as Washington. He lived long and was prospered, and died honored and respected by all who knew him. He was a very consistent Christian and a life-long member of the Lutheran Church.

After marriage Mr. and Mrs. Brown lived on a farm near Astoria for about five years, then came to Farmington in 1882 where he established himself in the grain and mill business. In 1887, he bought out the business of his predecessor and derives a satisfactory income from it. Besides his lumber interests he is conducting a good grain business, and is in a fair way to become one of the wealthiest men of the town. He is a careful manager and good financier, and stands well in the business world. In politics he uses his influence for the interests of the Republican party, he being quite radical in his political views. Religiously, he is a Presbyterian and a member of the church of that denomination.

Memoir

John McKinzey was born in Kentucky, May 1, 1822, and died of heart disease at the home of his niece, Mrs. Bert McCause, near Marietta, Ill., Feb. 16, 1899, aged seventy-six years, nine months and fifteen days. He emigrated in early boyhood with his parents to Indiana, thence to Fulton Co., Ill., where they settled between Barker's Grove and Table Grove. He was married to Miss Mary Ellen Rutledge Oct. 8, 1845. He and his wife were converted and joined the M. E. church in 1849 at a revival held at the Barnes schoolhouse. Then it was a small log house on the farm of Charles Wilson. The meeting was held by Rev. W. J. Smith, preacher in charge of Marietta circuit, and Rev. W. J. Beck, junior preacher. For convenience in attending worship he united with the Christian church eleven years ago and ever remained a faithful servant of the Master. He was the father of five sons and three daughters. His devoted wife was called away by death thirty-five years ago, so he was a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief. His oldest daughter, Zerelda, was then but sixteen years of age, but nobly took the place of mother and aided her father in caring for the other children. She is now the wife of Amos Wilson. The two other daughters are Adeline Heylin and Carrie Rishel. Of the sons George W. died in infancy; Alec died in 1886, leaving a widow and six children; Elijah T., Joseph B. and James O. are all married men. On their father's side all of his generation have now passed away, and on the mother's side there remains but one brother, Rev. J. E. Rutledge, a member of the Missouri conference, and Lydia Rutledge Wheeler. Of the subject of this sketch we can truly say that his was a good example. He had many true friends both in Illinois and Iowa, and besides his children, there are twenty-five grand children, and six great-grandchildren. He rests from his labors and his memory is precious.

Servant of God, well done. The glorious .....s past. The battle fought, the victory won, and thou art crowned at Last.

History of Idaho: The Gem of the Mountains, Vol. 3, by James H. Hawley, 1920

What an interesting story would be unfolded if the life record of J. E. Rutledge, with all of its pioneer experiences, its hardships, its privations, its possibilities and its opportunities, could be given in detail! There is no phase of the development of Idaho with which Mr. Rutledge is not familiar, for through a third of a century he has lived in this state. He was born at El Paso, Illinois, November 13, 1867, and is a son of Thompson and Martha Ellen (Wheeler) Rutledge. When he was a youth of seventeen years he left home and went to Montana and thence made his way to Oregon, while in 1887 he arrived in Long Valley, Idaho. He was one of the pioneers of the valley, where he turned his attention to the live stock business. En route from Montana he and his brother, I. M. Rutledge, with whom he has always been associated in business, passed through the Big Hole basin of Montana when there was but one rancher in that district and where the grass grew so high that it entirely covered the axles of their wagons. In reply to their query as to what could be raised there, the rancher gave a characteristic answer: "Hell and hay." It is now a very productive section. The nearest post office to the place at which the brothers settled was thirty-five miles distant. The country was overrun with bears, and deer could be seen in every direction, they were so numerous. The party consisted of Mr. Rutledge of this review, his three brothers, a sister and his father and mother. On leaving Weiser it was necessary for them to ford the Weiser river eighteen times between their starting point and Salmon Meadows, as there were no bridges and scarcely any sort of road. In the early days they had to build their houses of logs and their tables and doors were made of split logs, as there were no sawmills in the country. The snowfall there was very deep and they had to use snowshoes to haul hay on hand sleds for the stock. Even then a great number of their stock died for want of food.

Mr. Rutledge has seen the Indians in such numbers that their band would be miles long as they passed through the country. Although the winters were very hard, Mr. Rutledge says that Long Valley was one of the finest stock countries in the world twenty years ago, as it grew the best possible grass and hay. He continued there to engage in stock raising until 1910, conducting his live stock interests on an extensive scale and ranging his cattle in that section of the state. During the winter months he and his family would leave the district so that the children could attend school but would return to Long Valley in the spring. Mr. Rutledge has ridden after stock ever since he can remember and still likes it. He is a man of genial disposition and jovial temperament who looks much younger than his years, probably due to his out-of-door life. In the earlier days he and his associates would catch white fish in Payette lake. In the early part of November, to the extent of thousands of pounds for their winter supply, and the last time that he seined for them, he pulled in a ton at one haul.

In 1910, however, Mr. Rutledge sold his interests there and removed to the vicinity of Star, Idaho. A year later he purchased his present place of one hundred and fifty-eight and a half acres near Middleton, where he has a fine residence one of the attractive homes of the town. He also owns a ranch of four hundred and fifty-eight acres at Jerusalem, one hundred and sixty acres on Brownlee creek, these places being devoted to the raising of stock. At present he has about two hundred and fifty head of cattle and he buys and sells in large numbers. He feeds all of his stock and he employs progressive methods in their care and preparation for the market. In his business affairs he has always displayed sound judgment as well as enterprise and he has won substantial and well merited success.

Mr. Rutledge was married to Miss Lovie L. Landreth, of Iowa, and they have become the parents of ten children. Jesse L., who is on the ranch at Jerusalem, was in the army in France for seventeen months with the Forest Engineers and had just left the harbor of Halifax a few hours before the big explosion occurred there. Perry E. is at the ranch with his brother Jesse. Percy L., who is associated with his father, was at Camp Lewis and afterward in California in training for infantry service but did not get across. Nellie I. is the wife of C. E. Personette and lives at home. Lovie Elsie is employed in an abstract office in Caldwell. Pansy is employed in the telephone office in Caldwell. Clyde, Ira, Joy and Beth are also under the parental roof. Mr. Rutledge has a most interesting family, has led an active and useful life and has made valuable contribution to the upbuilding and development of Idaho, his labors having contributed much to its agricultural progress, while as a stock raiser he is widely known and his ranch properties are the visible evidence of his life of well directed energy and thrift.

couple was enumerated in 1870 with a child named Armetia, who was born some three or four years prior to the couple's marriage. Armetia is assumed to have been a foster child.

Notes for Hezekiah L. Gray:

History of Idaho: The Gem of the Mountains, Vol. 3, by James H. Hawley, 1920

Hezekiah Lincoln Gray, a well known citizen living near Boise, where for years he has been actively engaged in ranching and dairying, having one of the most successful dairies in that neighborhood, is a native of Oregon, born in Eugene, March 21, 1866, and is the only son of Leander and Mary Virginia (Collins) Gray. The father was born in Adams county, Illinois, March 28, 1846, and spent the greater part of his life in that state, Arkansas and the west. For the past ten years he has made his home with our subject. The mother, who was a native of Virginia, died in 1902. The parents were married in Colorado in 1865 and our subject is the only child born of that union, but he has four half-brothers and four half-sisters.

Hezekiah Lincoln Gray was reared on the hills of Lane county, Oregon, where his parents had taken up their abode. In his early youth he worked in the woods and about sawmills, and drove an ox team for several years in logging camps. He was always handy with tools and acquired a knowledge of carpenter work in his early manhood. It is very probable that he acquired his bent in this direction from his mother, who was a woman of rare skill in the handling of tools and the making of household furniture. In those pioneer days in Oregon, when practically every piece of furniture, tool, and article of wearing apparel was homemade, Mrs. Gray did all such work for her home. She was a practical cabinetmaker and made the chairs, tables and bedsteads for her home; sheared the sheep and spun the resultant wool into clothes for the family on a loom made by herself. She was a good rifle shot and could kill a bear or a deer with the skill of a marksman. She made her own spinning wheel and on it she spun the wool into yarn which she had sheared from the sheep.

With the foregoing as inherited qualities, it is little wonder that Mr. Gray soon learned how to use a hammer and saw, and how to plan and construct. He never served an apprenticeship but just followed his natural bent and became a fine mechanic. At the age of twenty-one he went to Illinois on a visit to relatives, and he spent fifteen years between the states of Illinois and Missouri, engaged at various occupations, a portion of the time being devoted to farming, carpentering and grain dealing. In the spring of 1904, Mr. Gray returned to the northwest and has since lived either in or near Boise. For a period of ten years after coming to Boise, he was an active contractor and builder, erecting scores of store buildings, residences and churches in Boise. In 1911 he bought his present ranch home, near Perkins, and the family moved to it from Boise. In 1914, and here they have been living ever since. While he still does some contracting, Mr. Gray devotes the greater part of his time to his ranch and dairy business, which he makes a special feature of his work, and for this purpose he keeps an excellent strain of dairy cows, which in 1919 yielded him three thousand four hundred dollars.

Highland Recorder, August 16, 1901

A Very Sad Occurrence:

On Tuesday near the noon hour the citizens of Doe Hill and community were greatly shocked by one of the saddest events that ever happened in that neighborhood. It was the discovery of the dead body of Hezekiah Wilson, a prominent and substantial resident of that section, in a pasture field not far from his home, which is located about one and a half miles from the village. Monday morning, soon after breakfast, Mr. Wilson started out from his home, carrying his gun remarking to a member of his family that he was going to kill a hawk. Night came and Mr. Wilson had not returned, but his family was not alarmed, thinking he had gone to a neighbor's to spend the night. But on Tuesday morning when he did not return, the family became alarmed and a search was immediately instituted, in which many of the neighbors took part of. About noon, as above stated, the object of the search was discovered and as many feared, the worst had happened, for a gastly sight, one that the searchers will long remember they were called to witness, the lifeless body of Mr. Wilson lying face downward on the ground ...

In that census Amanda reports having given birth to 12 children, 10 living. Eight children were still living at home.

The eldest child enumerated with the couple was John P. Cook, born in February of 1880, a year before John and Amanda married. John was perhaps the son of another wife of John Wesley Cook, or perhaps, a child from Amanda's previous marriage.

John, 74, died November 5, 1908 in Kuttawa, Lyon County, Kentucky. His place of burial is unknown.

John Wesley Cook and Mary C. Ralston had the following children:

- i. FRANK HENRY<sup>6</sup> COOK was born on 07 May 1858 in Highland Co., Va.. He died on 23 May 1940 in Kuttawa, Lyon Co., Ky. (age 82). He married Margaret J. Jones, daughter of Thomas J. Notes for Samuel Franklin Gray:

"History of Montgomery County, Kansas" (1903):

SAMUEL F GRAY -- November 4, 1868, Samuel F. Gray, of this sketch, was born on a farm in Boone county, Missouri. The next year his parents came to Kansas and settled in Wilson county, temporarily, and in 1870, took up government land in Montgomery county, where they still reside.

While our subject is not a native of the soil of Montgomery county, his life has been practically spent here and all he is he owes to the influences and environment of this county. In childhood life, his daily associates were the aborigines of White Hair's band and between them a mutual and lasting attachment sprang up. He communed with speechless nature and drank deep draughts of ozone from the fresh and healthful air. Body and mind expanded simultaneously and the rural exercise developed a strong physique and laid the foundation for an active and vigorous life.

The limit of parental control was reached at twenty-one years and Mr. Gray married and set up for himself. He spent the first three years in Neosho county and then returned to his home neighborhood in Montgomery county. In 1897, he ceased to be a tenant and became a land owner, buying an eighty in section 16, township 31, range 16, where he maintains his present home. The old family homestead he also cultivates and is employed with the raising of grain and stock.

Samuel F. Gray is a son of Jackson Gray, mentioned in a sketch elsewhere in this volume. He is the third child of his parents and married, first, Martha, a daughter of William and Sarah Hausley, of Wilson county, Kansas. His wife died in 1894, leaving two children, Edward and Howard. For his second wife Mr. Gray married Rosella Beathe, born in Highland county, Virginia, and a daughter of Joseph and Louisa Beathe.

Mr Gray's disposition leads him to a strict attention to business. He is conscious that labor has its reward and that there is no excellence without it, and his substantial position today has resulted from a close adherence to the spirit of these truths.

- ii. MARY ALICE BEATHE was born on 06 Feb 1871 in W. Back Creek, Highland Co., Va.. She died on 14 Feb 1888 (age 17).

Notes for Mary Alice Beathe:

JOHN COBB DEAD

John Cobb, approximately sixty years of age, died Sunday, July 23 at two o'clock at his home on Crab Run. Mr. Cobb was a well known citizen and farmer of this community. His early life was spent in and around Monterey. For a number of years he lived in the home of the late W.A. (Bum) Cunningham, but later he spent several years in the lumber camps of West Virginia, where he was well known and regarded as one of the best teamsters of that day. His home which he established on the Monterey-McDowell highway, was one that afforded welcome to his warm friends. He is survived by his widow. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from his late home, with interment in Strait Creek cemetery.

CONFIDENTIALLY

(By Erasmus Bluegrass) One night last week we were out late and ran into our old friend John Cobb just as he was piling into his bus. We watched him as he headed toward Jack Mountain and wished him God's speed. When we learned from Mrs. Dever that the ancient truck had outlived him, it left us feeling very much as if we had run hard into a stone wall. We had a chat with Doc Fox and heard how John had met the final emergency in that same courageous and straightforward spirit that had characterized his life and had won for him the title of "Honest John Cobb." After listening to Doc Fox we had a feeling that John had, (to use a favorite quotation of J.L.B's), merely "shuffled off this mortal coil" and was finding himself among the Eternal Hills.

illness which this morning terminated in his death, was of short duration, he having been sick only one week. A kind father, and a loving mother and wife were with him to administer to every want but this; would not suffice. Sometime before his death he gave expression of his preparation for the sad change, which will be remembered as words of consolation by the sorrowing one. He leaves a young wife and two small children not old enough to realize the great sorrow which has so suddenly come upon them. The deceased was 26 years, 5 months and 20 days old. A short service will be held at the Methodist church tomorrow evening at one o'clock by Rev. Hammond after which the remains will be laid at rest in Monterey cemetery.

Notes for Sarah E. Cunningham:

Sarah "Sallie" E. Cunningham was born, according to the 1900 census, in June of 1850 in Maryland. She was one of three children attributed to William C. Cunningham and Eleonara Boyer. Boyer may not have been her mother's maiden name. In the 1850 census (Miss or Mrs.) Eleonora Boyer, age 27, was living with Willaim Cunningham, age 33. Living with them was a child, Elisabeth Boyer, age 3. The census was taken on the 17th of July 1850, a month after Sarah's supposed birth. Sarah was not enumerated with the family, and it appears that William and Eleonara were not as yet husband and wife. Sarah E. Cunningham may have been the Elizabeth Boyer enumerated in 1850 and William Cunningham not her biological father.

Sarah was known as Sallie. On April 19, 1877 in Garrett County, Maryland, she married George Eagle Ralston. The young family was enumerated in the 1880 census living next door to Sarah's parents. Two of their eight children had been born at that time.

In 1900 Sarah's mother, Mrs. Eleanora Cunningham, sold her "Sallie Ralston" 15 acres in Garrett County, Maryland. {source: book: 38, page: 595} At the time of the 1900 census, Sarah's mother was living with her.

On May 10, 1877 in Highland County, Jared married Susan Jane Flesher. Their only child was born the following year. About 1879, they, along with some of the Flesher family, removed to Illinois. Jared, Susan, their son Louis, and Susan's widowed mother, Mrs. Barbara Flesher, were enumerated in the 1880 census of Hutton, Coles County, Illinois:

Later Jared and his wife separated. His wife and son remained in Illinois, and Jared returned to Highland County, Virginia. In 1900 he was enumerated at the house of his younger brother Conrad Ralston in the Stonewall District of Highland County. He was listed as married, but his wife was still in Illinois where she also listed herself as married.

On December 31, 1903 in Highland County, Virginia, Jared married Etta Catherine Pullin of Highland County. Nine children are attributed to the couple, but three (Dewitt, Margie and Horner) were not Jared's children. The first two of the three children were enumerated with the Pullin family in 1900, enumerated as grandchildren of Balsar Pullin, Etta's father. Jared and family were enumerated in the 1910 census of the Stonewall District of Highland County, Virginia:

In the 1930 census Jared, age 76, appears to have a new wife named Elizabeth, age 50. The couple may not have legally married.

Jared, 78, caught the flu and died of pneumonia on April 1, 1932 in the Pastures District of Augusta County, Virginia. Information on his death certificate was provided by his younger brother Samuel who listed Jared's wife as Etta. Jared was buried in Rocky Springs, Virginia. ## Generation 5 (cont.)

On May 10, 1877 in Highland County, Virginia, Susan married Jared M. Ralston. About 1879, after the birth of their first child, they and some of Susan's family moved to Hutton, Coles County, Illinois. The family was enumerated in the 1880 census. Living with them was Susan's widowed mother, Barbara.

Sometime after 1880 Susan and Jared separated and/or divorced, and Jared returned to Highland County, Virginia. Susan and her son Louis were enumerated in 1900. Jared was not present, but Susan listed herself as married. It was not uncommon for divorced women to list themselves as married or widowed. In the 1910 and 1920 censuses she lists herself as widowed even though Jared was still alive and living in Virginia. In 1910 and 1920 Susan, enumerated as Jane, was living with her son and his wife in Cumberland County, Illinois. 1910 census:

Louie Raleston	Head	M	22	Virginia
Ida Raleston	Wife	F	25	Illinois
Harold Raleston	Son	M	7	Illinois
Jane Raleston	Mother	F	49	Virginia (widowed)

Susan, 68, died August 24, 1928 in Union Township of Cumberland County, Illinois, and was buried in the Whetstone Cemetery in Charleston, Coles County, Illinois.

Notes for Louis Branson Ralston:

Louis Branson Ralston was born April 8, 1878 in Highland County, Virginia, the only child born to Jared Morgan Ralston and Susan Jane Flesher. He may have been born in Bull Pasture River of Highland County.

About 1879 his parents, along with some of the Flesher family, moved to Hutton, Coles County, Illinois, where Louis was enumerated during the 1880 census at the age of 2 years. His parents separated and divorced sometime after 1880, and his father returned to Virginia. Louis and his mother were enumerated in the 1900 census of Cumberland County, Illinois. His mother listed herself as married, but Louis's father was not present. His father had returned to Virginia where he was enumerated in the 1900 census as married and living with his brother Conrad. His father remarried in 1903, and from that union Louis had three half-sisters and two half-brothers; half-siblings that he likely never knew.

On October 9, 1901 in Coles County, Illinois, Louis married Mary Ida Ingram. The couple farmed in Cumberland County, Illinois. Two sons were born to the couple, but their eldest son James died in 1917 at the age of 14. Louis's wife preceded him in death in 1957.

Sometime after 1910 and prior to 1920, Jared moved the family moved to Augusta County, Virginia where they would remain. Etta and Jared divorced prior to 1930 as they are enumerated separately in 1930. Daughters Leta, Ruby and Myrtle were still living at home with Etta at that time. Etta, age 54, was enumerated as "married" eventhough her husband had married to his third wife prior to 1930. In 1940 the widow Etta Ralston was enumerated with her son Virgil.

Jared Morgan Ralston and Etta Catherine Pullin had the following children:

- ii. LETA BELLE RALSTON was born on 05 Oct 1905 in Highland Co., Va.. She died on 13 May 1996 in Augusta Co., Va. (age 90). Notes for Joseph Gilbert Ralston:

Joseph Gilbert "Gib" Ralston was born June 9, 1857 in Highland County, Virginia, the eldest of three children born to Andrew J. Ralston and Isabella Fleisher. Joseph's father, who had joined the Union Army in 1863, died April 18, 1864 when Joseph was 6 years old.

The following year, Joseph's mother gave birth, out-of-wedlock, to her fourth son, who she named John Robert Ralston.

Thomas Matthew, the children's guardian, and Joseph's mother moved to Gilmer County, West Virginia about 1866 when Joseph was about 8 or 9 years old. His mother married Thomas Matthew in 1868, and from this union, William had one half-sister and four half-brothers. Joseph grew to adulthood in Gilmer County.

On December 31, 1882 in Gilmer County, West Virginia, Joseph, age 25, married Flora E. Bailey, age 22. The marriage was brief as Joseph was soon widowed when Flora died on December 13, 1883, just weeks from their first wedding anniversary. There were no known children from his first marriage, but it is thought that Flora may have died in childbirth.

Three years later on January 7, 1886 in Gilmer County, Joseph, age 28, married his second wife, Frances "Fannie" Elizabeth Riddle, age 18. Joseph and Frances had six known children, four daughters and two sons. Two of the daughters and both sons died as infants. Sometime after 1897, Joseph moved the family to Marion County, Ohio. There on March 26, 1922 his second wife, Frances, died from tuberculosis at the age of 54.

The following year, on November 23, 1923 in Marion County, Ohio, Joseph married the widow Mrs. Lucy Needles, the former Miss Lucy Ann Radebaugh, making her his third wife.

Joseph died three years later on September 14, 1926 at the age of 69 in Marion, Marion County, Ohio, and was buried in the Marion Cemetery in Marion. Joseph was survived by Lucy, his third wife, two daughters from his second marriage: Mrs. Ella Cross and Mrs. Ona Snider, and four grandchildren.

According to the oral family history passed down from Mrs. Juanita Ralston Hostetter, Joseph's death was attributed by the doctor to eating too many peaches. Earlier that day, Joseph had Gladys Ralston can some peaches. He returned home and died that same day. His obituary in The Marion Star {September 15, 1926, page 7} does not go into the details as does the family's oral history, but it states that "Joseph ... died at his home late last night from the effects of a stroke of apoplexy suffered at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon." Apoplexy being uncontrolled bleeding from an internal organ.

In the 1920 Census next door to Joseph lives another Joseph Ralston, age 34, a widower and a son age 8. It is not known if these two Josephs were in any way related.

Notes for Flora E. Bailey:

The cause of Flora's death is not know, but since she died within the first year of her marriage, it is speculated that she could have died during child birth.

Notes for Frances Elizabeth Riddle:

Frances "Fannie" Elizabeth Riddle was born May 22, 1867 in Wirt County, West Virginia, the second child born to James Riddle. Frances was also known as Fanny or Fannie. Frances's mother, who's name is not known, died when Frances was young. Her father remarried, and his second wife, Frances' stepmother, was Mary A. Vandevender. Frances had one or more half-siblings from her father's second marriage.

On January 5, 1886 in Gilmer County, West Virginia, Frances became the second wife of widower Joseph Gilbert Ralston. There were no children from her husband's first marriage. The couple had six children, four daughters and two sons. All but two daughters died as infants; their last child died in 1897. In 1912 her husband moved the family to Marion, Marion County, Ohio.

It was there on March 26, 1922 that Frances died of tuberculosis at the age of 54 and was buried in the Marion Cemetery. She was survived by Joseph, her husband of 36 years, and their two daughters, Ella and Ona, her stepmother Mary and several brothers and sisters.

His birthplace was Morgan county, Ohio, and he was born in the year 1849, April the 8th, a son of William McParland, of Casey, who made an early settlement there. We next find him in the lumber business in Adair, and in this he has succeeded nicely, his sales in 1883 being between twenty-five and thirty thousand dollars' worth of goods. His wife was Emma A. Kinmundy Express, November 3, 1933

Dr. H.L. HANNA, Graduate Licensed Veterinarian, Approved and Accredited by the Bureau of Animal Industry: Homer L. Hanna, Doctor of Veterinary Medicine, has been a greater asset to our community than many of our readers think for. He has saved thousands of dollars worth of livestock for our farmers. You know animals are just like human beings. They get sick and meet with accidents just the same as we do and consequently need a doctor. Our subject is the only veterinarian for miles around. Consequently, he has a large territory and his practice keeps him very busy. Dr. Hanna gained his medical education under some very adverse circumstances. He was just a farmer, making a living for his wife and children, but he felt as though this community needed a veterinarian. This line of work appealed to him, and by he and his family making several sacrifices, he attended school during the winter months and farmed during the summer. In 1918 he graduated from the Terre Haute Veterinary College and began to practice in Kinmundy. Dr. Hanna has saved the lives of many an animal as well as many a flock of poultry. He has been very instrumental in the eradication of bovine tuberculosis in this territory and has placed Marion County on the accredited list. Homer L., son of David R. and Mary Landrum Hanna, was born in Kinmundy twp., Dec. 24, 1877. He gained his education in the country schools and the Terre Haute Veterinary College. In 1895, he was married to Miss Martha J. Gray of Kinmundy. He sustained a great loss in the passing of this good woman. In 1930, he was married to Mrs. Nora Gust of Kinmundy, but owing to misunderstandings, this marriage was a failure. A few weeks ago he was married to Mrs. Esther George of Centralia, but formerly of this city. Dr. Hanna has 11 children, namely, Bertha, Gail, Clyde, Paul, Mary, Ruth, Leone, Ada, Dwight, Bobby and Beauford. He also has 3 step children, namely, Mrs. Florence Jasper, Mrs. Eva Rupe, and Mrs. Lyda Baldrige. Dr. Hanna has quite a fascination for horses, especially race horses and at present, is the owner of 4 standard bred horses, which have made some fine records. (end of article)

His father was a gallant Confederate soldier, who is still living at Franklin, Tennessee. T. J. Baugh came to Hopkinsville in 1899, having had some experience in the telephone business at Franklin, where the family located in 1888. He came here with the Cumberland Telephone Company, was with that company eight years, and then became wire chief with the new Home Company. When it was consolidated with the Cumberland, a few years later, he established the Baugh Electric Company, his present successful business. Mr. Baugh was married in 1901 to Miss Willie Datha Davis, a daughter of Capt. Mc J. Davis, one of the last surviving veterans of the Union army in Christian County. They have one son, Robert, and one daughter, Margaret, who have the distinction of having two grandfathers, both living, who fought on opposite sides in the War between the States. Capt. Davis lives with his son-in-law, and the old veterans frequently meet and "bury the hatchet."
