Ed Shanklin was the guard of a tobacco warehouse that was torched. {source: On Bended Knees, Bill Cunningham, page 101} Ed fled into the basement and then out of a window to escape the Night Riders, who were terrorizing Hopkinsville. The Night Riders were a vigilante group operating from about 1906 to 1908 in southwestern Kentucky and northwestern Tennessee that used fear and intimidation against the Duke tobacco monopoly in the area. The Night Riders were led by Dr. David Amoss, a medical doctor from the Cobb community in Caldwell County, Kentucky. These "masked riders" initiated what were called the Black Patch Wars because of the unfair price ceilings being generated by the Duke tobacco conglomerate. The price of tobacco had been artificially suppressed and as a consequence the people in these communities suffered greatly. {Wikipedia}

"The larger crowd had hurried on to the big Latham warehouse just east of the L. & N. depot and after breaking in poured oil in many places and fired it from the inside. Then part of them hurried around Campbell Street to Fifteenth to fire the frame warehouse of Tandy and Fairleigh, the buyers for the Italian Regie. W.E. Shanklin was on guard here, and ran into the basement and prepared to defend the house, but they approached it with many shots and breaking in, quickly had it in flames while Shanklin escaped from a rear window...." {source: A History of Christian County, Kentucky, Meacham 1930, pages 352-3}

Fatal Accident--On last Wednesday evening about dark, as a party of young men from Long Glade, Moscow, and Mossy Creek were going home from the Fair, one of them--William Todd, second son of Capt. James H. Todd, near Mt. Solon--met with an accident by which he was killed almost instantly. From some unknown cause, his horse reared up, breaking the girth of the saddle when he fell backwards to the ground and broke his neck. His body was carried into the house of Mrs. R. Hamrick, on the Mt. Solon road, about five miles from town, and as soon as Dr. S. Homer Henkel could be taken out, an examination was made, and the fact just mentioned was ascertained. Mrs. Pauline W. Hulvey (1889-1941)

Todd Lauck (1891-1891) died sometime after his mother's death

Emma, about age 31, died May 4, 1891 in Virginia.

The Rockingham Register (Harrisonburg, Virginia), Friday, May 8, 1891

The announcement of the death of Mrs. Emma Lauck, wife of Mr. S.W. Lauck, at an early hour Tuesday morning, created a profound sensation.

She had been a sufferer from neuralgia, and had, had some medical attention during the preceding day, but comparatively few of her friends knew that she was not in her usual health when the announcement of her death reached them.

Upon reaching home from business Monday night about 10 o'clock, Mr. Lauck found his wife apparently asleep on a lounge in her bed room. He at first noticed nothing unusual in her appearance, and prepared to retire. Later, however, he was startled to find her entirely unconscious and apparently in a dying condition.

Physicians and friends were immediately summoned and every effort was made to arouse her from the deep coma into which she had fallen, but in vain. It is thought that she partially regained consciousness Tuesday morning at about 4 o'clock and recognized the friends who surrounded her bedside, but uttered no word from the time she was discovered the night before until she died at 5:40 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The deceased was a daughter of Mr. James Todd, of Augusta County and was married to Mr. Lauck in June 1888. She leaves two infant children, one less than two years old, and the other about three months.

Her remains were conveyed to Mt. Solon Tuesday afternoon and buried from her old home Wednesday morning.

Rev. L.B. Johnston conducted the services. Under circumstances of so much sadness Mr. Lauck has the profound sympathy of the entire community.

She was the granddaughter of Lewis Reno Vance and Elizabeth Roulston. Rhoda was born three months after her father died. Her mother took the family to live with her father where they remained until 1850. It was probably in the Spring of 1851 when the family moved to Iowa. In October of that year, Rhoda's mother died. Rhoda had just celebrated her 9th birthday five days before her mother's death. It is not known who cared for Rhoda and her sisters after their mother's death, but they all moved to the Utah Territory.

On September 23, 1863 in Alpine, Utah County of the Utah Territory, Rhoda married Ephraim Nash. Nine children were born to the couple. Five of their nine children died in 1877. Four children, ages 1 to 9, died of Influenza in January of 1877. Rhoda was likely also ill from the flu, and this caused her son to be stillborn in 1877. Ephraim, her husband of 47 years, preceded her in death in June of 1910. Rhoda moved to Provo, Utah where her youngest daughter, Mrs. Violet Johnson, and youngest son, Clarence, resided.

Rhoda died in Provo on December 4, 1930 at the age of 88. Her remains were returned to Alpine and buried with her husband and children.

On November 18, 1849 in Jackson County, Tennessee, Margaret married Thomas Jefferson McCullough. The couple lived with her father. They later removed to Pottawattamie County, Iowa, where a daughter, their only child, was born to the couple in February of 1851 but died later the same year. By 1860 the couple had pushed west into the Utah Territory where they resided in Alpine City. They were of the Mormon faith, and her husband had taken a second wife, Matilda. The trio were enumerated together in 1860 and 1870. Matilda preceded them both in death in 1878. No children were born from her husband's second wife.

Margaret and her husband were enumerated in the 1880 census of Alpine, Utah County of the Utah Territory:

Thomas Jefferson McCullough was born August 18, 1826 in White County, Tennessee, the son of Thomas McCullough and Mary Hefner.

On November 18, 1849 in Jackson County, Tennessee, Thomas "McCulloch" married Margaret Vance. [There are those who propose that Thomas was first married to Margaret's younger sister Nancy who died in 1848 at the age of 14.] In 1850 Jefferson and his wife Margaret, both age 26, lived with his wife's father. Living next to them was Thomas and Mary (Hefner) McCullough, Jefferson's parents.

The Evening Herald newspaper, Provo, Utah, 1 October 1931, page 1:

RESIDENT OF OREM KILLED ON HIGHWAY
John A. Vance, Veteran Educator, Church Man
Instantly Killed

Funeral services for John A. Vance, 81, veteran Utah school man and highly respected Sharon LDS stake church worked, who was instantly killed Thursday night on the state highway in front of his home, will be held Sunday afternoon, the time and place to be announced later.

Mr. Vance was struck by a car driven by Weston Kofford, 17, of Orem, while he and his wife were crossing the highway in front of his home half a mile south of the Provo canyon state highway road intersection in Orem, stated Deputy Sheriffs W. T. Lewis and George Loveless, who investigated.

The couple had just left the store and were walking south towards their home. Mrs. Vance, walking a little ahead of her husband, asked him to hurry as a car was coming. Apparently he did not hear, and was struck on the west side of the road just after crossing, the officers said. His body was found 93 feet from the point where he was hit the officers estimated. He was instantly killed.

The Kofford boy, who was accompanied by Dean Farnsworth, 17, of Orem, told Deputies Lewis and Loveless he did not see Mr. Vance until his car struck him. He was driving south.

Mr. Vance was one of the first students of Dr. Karl G. Maeser in the Brigham Young Academy. His early education was in the Alpine schools. He was born September 17, 1855, in Alpine (Utah).

He was principal of the Sharon school at Orem for more than 20 years, and previously taught at Tooele, Alpine, Scipio, Orem, and Thistle.

Mr. Vance was a Sharon stake high priest at the time of his death. Very active in church circles, he had held many positions in the ward, and was a Sunday school superintendent for many years.

His daughter, Mrs. James G. Stratton, and her husband of Orem were working on funeral arrangements this morning. Surviving besides his wife are nine other sons and daughters: Mrs. Raymond Elliott, Mrs. Ertman Christensen, and Mrs. E. H. Calder, Orem; Mrs. J. R. Rawlings, Draper; John A. Vance, Jr., Park Valley; Mrs. E. S. Borquist, Tucson, Arizona; Mrs. Chester Herbst Bellflower, California; Roland Vance, Salt Lake City; and Mrs. Earl Malone Denver.

She died after 1870. She married William R. Stinnett, son of John Stinnett and Elizabeth Wilkerson, on 17 May 1849 in Blount Co., Tenn.. He was born about 1827 in Tennessee. He died after 1880.

Harriett Yearout was born about 1832 in Blount County, Tennessee, the seventh of eight children born to John J. Yearout and Martha Roulston. She had an older sister who was also known as Harriett. The sisters were both enumerated at the home of their parents in 1850.

Harriett gave birth to a daughter in March of 1848. The following year, on May 17, 1849 Harriett married William R. Stinnett. It is uncertain if William was the father of Harriett's daughter. The previous year Harriett's sister, Martha, married Samuel D. Stinnett. William and Samuel Stinnett were brothers.

Beyond the marriage of Harriett and William, little is known of the couple. Harriett's daughter is not known to have lived with them but grew up living with Harriett's parents. Harriett and her husband removed from Tennessee in the late 1860's and were enumerated with Harriett's older brother John in the 1870 census of Critterdon County, Kentucky.

Harriett is believed to have died in Kentucky, perhaps as late as 1880. Her place of burial is unknown. She was survived by her husband and her daughter.

Notes for William R. Stinnett:

William Stinnett was born about 1827 in Tennessee, the son of John Stinnett and Elizabeth Wilerson..

On May 17, 1849 in Blount County, Tennessee, William married Harriett Yearout. The previous year Harriett's sister Martha had married a Samuel Stinnett, William's brother. Little is known of William after his marriage to Harriett. In 1860 the couple was living with William's father, John Stinnett. He and his wife removed to Critterdon County, Kentucky in the late 1860's where they lived with his wife's older brother, John Yearout, in 1870. His wife died sometime after 1870, probably in Kentucky.

"William (my great great Grandfather) did return [to Tennessee] after 1880 as he took maintenance on the last three of his daughter's [Edna] illegitimate children: Harriett (Ratledge/Rutledge), Lillian (Romines), [and] Robert Franklin (my grandfather)." {source: Elizabeth Olmstead, March 2009}

William is assumed to have remained in Tennessee until his death. His place of death and burial are unknown.

William R. Stinnett and Harriett Yearout had the following child:

- i. EDNA YEAROUT<sup>6</sup> STINNETT was born on 15 Mar 1848 in Maryville, Blount Co., Tenn.. She died on 14 Jan 1924 in Eastern State Hospital, Knox Co., Tenn. (age 72).

Notes for Edna Yearout Stinnett:

Edna Yearout Stinnett was born, according to her death certificate, March 15, 1848 in Blount County, Tennessee. She was the daughter and only child of William R. Stinnett and Harriett Yearout. She was the granddaughter of John J. Yearout and Martha Roulston.

Mr. Stinnett may not have actually been her biological father. Her parents did not marry until the year following her birth. Edna nor her parents appear to be enumerated together at the time of the 1850 census. Her mother was enumerated with her parents but may not have actually lived there. During her lifetime, Edna was known to have used both Yearout and Stinnett as her surname.

Edna lived with her maternal grandparents, John and Martha Yearout, and was enumerated there in 1860 as Edney Yearout, age 12. She is said to have given birth to a number of illegitimate children. Her first child was born when Edna was about 17 years of age. According to the family oral history obtain by Elizabeth Olmstead, Edna's first child, Lemuel, was the result of rape. The father of this child was known, but "...Edney's brothers killed him and made it appear like an ambush. The police record for the ambush is at Maryville. According to family legend, it was her brothers who did the killing, however, I have never located any sign of any other child of the marriage of William & Harriett and think perhaps it may have been some other kin. Uncle Lem was raised by Lewis Elbert & MJ Yearout Williams, the same who founded the Williams Hensley Lutheran Boys Home in Knoxville. MJ was Edna's aunt."

At the time of the 1870 census Edna was in Sheriff John Alexander's jail. She was enumerated as Edna Yearout, age 22. She was supposedly in jail because she had her second child, James Calvin, out of wedlock and would not, or perhaps could not, name the father.

 It is not known if any of the children shared the same father. Some of the children originally carried the Stinnett surname but would later change it to Yearout. "All of the children list the same mother, Edna on their death records, though often with made up husbands [fathers]." {Elizabeth Olmstead, March 2009} Edna's father returned from Kentucky after 1880 and the death of his wife to raise the youngest three of Edna's children.

Edna was enumerated in the 1900 census of Blount County, Tennessee. Four of her seven children, Emma, Lillie, Robert and Mary, were still living with her. Her daughter Mary was enumerated as married with two children, one deceased, but her child nor her husband were present.

In 1919 Edna is found in the Knoxville City Directory living with her youngest son Robert. She was listed as Edna Stinnett, widow of William. In the 1920 Knoxville City Directory she is still living with son Robert, but she is listed as Edna Stinnett, widow of James.

Edna removed to Sevierville, Sevier County, Tennessee, residing there for some period of time before she was hospitalized at the Eastern State Hospital in Knox County with Chronic Nephritis (inflammation of the kidney). She succumbed to the illness on January 14, 1924 at the age of 72 and was buried in the State Cemetery in Knoxville, Tennessee as Edna Stinnett.

She died on 01 Aug 1906 in Texas (age 71). She married John A. Dyer, son of Dyer and (Unknown), on 07 Oct 1859 in Tennessee. He was born on 22 Jul 1828 in Virginia. He died on 24 Apr 1881 in Tennessee (age 52).

Another child is believed to have been born in 1870 but died prior to the 1880 census. - vi. TENNCY DYER was born about Mar 1870 in Blount Co., Tenn.. She died before 1880 in Blount Co., Tenn..

Notes for Tenncy Dyer:

This daughter was enumerated in the 1870 census as the youngest child of John A. Dyer and Margaret Yearout. The printing on the census for this child is faded making her name difficult to read. Her name ends in the letters "cy." Nancy is a common name of that era that ended with the letters "cy", but the name appears to have too many letters for this name. The first letter of the name is a capital "T" as written in the heading of the census for the state of Tennessee. From this, the daughter's name appears to be "Tenncy" a nickname for Tennessee. Tennessee was not an uncommon given name, but the nickname version was normally found as Tennie.

The 1870 census was taken in August of 1870, and "Tenncy" was enumerated as being 5/12 (5 months old), making her birth about March of 1870. This daughter may be the daughter later found as "Esta" in the 1880 census, or this daughter may have died prior to the 1880 census.

- vii. ESTA DYER was born in Apr 1871 in Maryville, Blount Co., Tenn.. She died on 21 Mar 1957 in Greenville, Hunt Co., Texas (age 85). She married George T. Swinney on 01 Jan 1894 in Hunt Co., Texas. He was born on 17 Dec 1868 in Kentucky. He died on 12 Jan 1934 in Hunt Co., Texas (age 65).

Notes for Esta Dyer:

Esta Dyer was born in April of 1871 in Maryville, Blount County, Texas, the seventh of nine children born to John A. Dyer and Margaret Yearout. Esta's father died in 1881 when she was ten years old. Esta moved with her mother and some of her siblings to Hunt County, Texas.

On January 1, 1894 in Hunt County, Texas, Esta married George T. Swinney. They were enumerated with Esta's mother in 1900. They had been married for six years and had no children. Esta's mother died in 1906. Esta's sister Ella and widowed brother John were living with them in 1910. Her brother John had a daughter named Lois. Niece Lois was left in Esta's care, and her brother John lived elsewhere. Esta's husband George died in 1934. After his death, Esta and her brother Charles resided together.

Notes for George T. Swinney:

Tombstone is inscribed with his date of birth as 1869. On his death certificate the year is 1868.

- viii. CHARLES S. DYER was born in Mar 1873 in Maryville, Blount Co., Tenn.. He died on 25 Jan 1959 in Waco, McLennan Co., Texas (age 85).

Notes for Charles S. Dyer:

Charles S. Dyer was born in March of 1873 in Maryville, Blount County, Tennessee, the eighth of nine children born to John A. Dyer and Margaret Yearout. He was the grandson of John J. Yearout and Martha Roulston.

Charles never married.

After the death of his father in 1881, his mother moved the family to Hunt County, Texas. As a young man, Charles worked as a painter. Later, he became a butcher and worked that profession until his retirement. In 1940 Charles and his widowed sister, Mrs. Esta Swinney, lived together in Hunt County, Texas. His sister died in 1957.

Charles died January 25, 1959 in Waco, McLennan County, Texas, and was buried as Charlie S. Dyer in the East Mount Cemetery in Greenville, Hunt County, Texas.

- ix. JOSEPHINE DYER was born about 1874 in Blount Co., Tenn.. She died on 09 Aug 1953 in Hughes Springs, Cass Co., Texas (age 85). She married Adolphus Eugene Starnes on 06 Apr 1899 in Hunt Co., Texas. He was born on 18 Feb 1872 in Wills Point, Van Zandt Co., Texas. He died on 14 Sep 1957 in Hughes Springs, Cass Co., Texas (age 85).

Notes for Josephine Dyer:

Josephine "Josie" Dyer was born about 1874 in Blount County, Tennessee, the youngest of nine children born to John A. Dyer and Margaret Yearout. Her father died in 1881 when Josie was about seven years old. Her mother moved the family to Hunt County, Texas.

On April 6, 1899 in Hunt County, Texas, Josie married Dr. Adolphus Eugene Starnes. One child was born to the couple. The family resided in Cass County, Texas. Josie's spinster sister Ella Dyer came to live with them prior to the 1930 census. Ella remained with them until her death in 1945.

Josie preceded her husband in death on August 9, 1953 and was buried in the Hughes Springs Cemetery in Hughes Springs, Texas. Her tombstone transcription gives her date of birth as February 14, 1878.

Notes for Thomas Washington Rawlston:

Thomas Washington Rawlston (Sr.) was born January 13, 1838 in Tennessee as Thomas Washington Roulston, the first of nine children born to William Jarrett Roulston/Rawlston and Martha Jane Arnett. Sometime between 1870 and 1880 the surname was corrupted to the Rawlston spelling.

About 1862 in Tennessee, Thomas married Elizabeth "Bessie" C. Taylor. Six children are attributed to the couple; only three sons are known. The three other children died in infancy or as young children. The family was enumerated during the 1880 census of the 1st Ward of Chattanooga, Hamilton County, Tennessee:

Thomas W. Rawlston    Self    M    Male    W    40    TN    Superintendent of Co. Workhouse    TN

The family was enumerated in the 1900 census of Hamilton County, Tennessee, under the Raulston surname. Three of their six children were deceased. Son Zachari was still living at home, and son Thomas Jr. was living next door with his wife and children.

His wife Bessie preceded him in death on December 13, 1900.

Thomas, 70, died October 3, 1908 in Hamilton County, Tennessee. His place of burial is unknown and assumed to be unmarked. In his will, section 2, "I desire that my earthly remains be plainly but decently buried."

Notes for Elizabeth C. Taylor:

Elizabeth "Bessie" C. Taylor was born in May of 1839 in Scotland; her parentage is unknown. In the 1860 census of Bergen, Hackensack Township, New Jersey, Bessy Taylor, age 20 and born in Scotland, was enumerated. Many years later Bessie listed her place of birth as New Jersey.

About 1862 in Tennessee, Elizabeth married Thomas Washington Roulston/Rawlston. Six children are attributed to their union. Only three of their six children reached adulthood. Elizabeth and her husband were enumerated as "Roulston" in the 1870 census of Chattanooga, Hamilton County, Tennessee. Their first born child, William, was not enumerated with the family, giving some speculation that he was perhaps adopted sometime after 1870. Residing with the family in 1870 was Elizabeth's younger brother, Zachariah Taylor, and his wife, Mary F. Taylor. In 1878 Elizabeth named her son Zachari Taylor Rawlston.

On October 29, 1900, Elizabeth wrote her will. In her will she names her husband and sons, Thomas and Zachari. Son William was not mentioned.

Elizabeth, 61, preceded her husband in death on December 13, 1900 in Marion County, Tennessee, and was buried in the Forest Hills Cemetery in Marion County, Tennessee. Besides her husband, she was survived by her two sons: Thomas, and Zachari.

Elizabeth's cause of death was listed as "Phthisis Pulmonalis," better known as tuberculosis.

Thomas Washington Rawlston and Elizabeth C. Taylor had the following children:

- i. WILLIAM<sup>6</sup> RAWLSTON was born about 1863 in Hamilton Co., Tenn.. He died after 1900.

Notes for William Rawlston:

William Rawlston was born about 1863 in Hamilton County, Tennessee, the eldest of six children attributed to Thomas Washington Rawlston Sr. and Elizabeth "Bessie" C. Taylor. He may not have been their biological child.

William may have been an adopted child as he was not enumerated with his parents in the 1870 census where he would have appeared at the age of 7. William was first enumerated at the age of 17 with his parents and two brothers, Thomas Jr. and Zachari, in the 1880 census of Hamilton County, Tennessee. William was working in a boiler factory. |                     |       |   |        |   |    |    |               |    |    |

About 1920 his son Zachari married and lived next door at the time of the 1930 census.

The 1930 census of Hamilton County, Tennessee, was taken on April 14, and James died two weeks later on May 2, 1930 at the age of 77. He was buried as James F. Raulston in the Jackson Chapel Cemetery in Hixson, Hamilton County, Tennessee.

The latter was a son of Lewis Jones, who removed to Tennessee, it is believed, from Virginia. He followed farming most of his life in Tennessee, where he died at an advanced age. He reared a large family, of whom John was one of the older sons. John Jones married Isabella Raulston, of Tennessee, daughter of Moses Raulston, who came from Ireland, and who was a finished scholar. His wife was Mary Denny, of Tennessee, who was left alone with five small children, all of whom she reared.

Lewis G. Jones is one of eighteen children, five of whom died in infancy, and only six of whom arrived at adult age. William was a volunteer in the Thirtyfirst Illinois Infantry, and was killed in battle in front of Atlanta, July 22, 1864, the same day on which Gen. McPherson, was killed. The parents of Lewis G. John came to Illinois in 1858 with their team, leaving him and his elder sister in Tennessee. He came on in the fall of 1865, and his sister came in 1875. Lewis G. Jones volunteered to defend the flag of his country in March, 1862, joining the Fifth Tennessee Infantry, and serving as a private soldier all the time he was in the army. He was in some of the principal battles of the war, Chickamauga and Resaca, and in the entire Atlanta campaign, back with Gen. Thomas in pursuit of food to nashville, at Ft. Fisher, Ft. Anderson, and at Wilmington, NC.

He was married first in 1856, to Louisa Phillips, who bor him 5 sons and one daughter. Three of the sons died in infancy. The children she left at the time of her death were Samuel A., who died when twentyseven years of age. William I., who died when seventeen years of age, and Isabelle, wife of Turner Miller, a farmer of Tunnel Hill Township. Mr. Jones was married the second time, July 16, 1871, to Miss Sarah E. little means, and was at the time an invalid, and had been from the time he came out of the army where he had lung fever, and was generally broken down. He settled first in Goreville Township, on an eightyacre farm belonging to his mother. His first farm in Illinois consisted of eighty acres, now a part of his present farm of one hundred and nineteen acres. Mr. Jones was Treasurer of the Township Board and Commissioner. He is a member of the Odd Fellow's fraternity, and has since the war voted the Republican ticket principally. He carries on for the most part general farming, growing mostly wheat and corn, and keeps a few horses, cattle, sheep and hogs. He and his present wife buried one son, Oscar, at four years of age. They have six children living, viz: Viola, a young lady at home; Verrazanna, a young man at home; Cordelia, a young lady in school; Jesse C., a rugged farmer boy; Philip Sheridan and Mary E. While Mr. and Mrs. Jones themselves had but limited education they see the benefit of it, and are doing what they can to educate their children. they are both members of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. The father of Mrs. Jones was a soldier in the War of the Rebellion."

Notes: There are a number of minor discrepancies in this text. Samuel A., was 24 yrs. when he died, from complication of diabetes. It appears that Moses had left Mary Denny, rather than dying, which I first interpreted. Also, he did not come from Ireland, but was born in Virginia, then moved to Tennessee. Another source has Nathan Jones as father of John Jones, rather than Lewis.

On July 26, 1836 in Putnam County, Tennessee, Rhoda married Adolphia Young. Eight children were born to the couple. Their fifth and sixth children were born in Nauvoo, Hancock County, Illinois, during the mid 1840's when the Church of Later Day Saints had made that location their home.

Joseph Smith was arrested and, on June 27, 1844, was killed with his brother Hyrum when a mob stormed the jail at Carthage, Illinois, where they were being held. In February of 1846 the church leaders and followers left Illinois for Utah, staying the winter in Winter Quarters (now Florence, Nebraska) on the Missouri River. After the birth of their sixth child in March of 1846, Rhoda and her husband returned to Putnam County, Tennessee. Their seventh child was born there. As they named their seventh child Brigham, they were obviously influenced by Brigham Young and the Mormon faith.

Rhoda, her husband, and children were making their way to Utah as part of the 340 people and 61 wagons escorted by the John Tidwell Company. Some 100 miles outside of Hall County, Nebraska, her husband Adolphia died July 5, 1852 at the age of 36. Her son Samuel died of Cholera three days later. ## Generation 5 (cont.)

ROBERT P. JARED

Without peradventure every commonwealth of the United States has contributed to the population of the Inland Empire and the subject of this article, who dwells about three miles south from Usk, is one who owns Putnam county, Tennessee, as his native place. He was born on October 6, 1842, the son of William and Martha P. (Jett) Jared, natives of White county, in the same state. The father was a preacher of the gospel and died at the age of fifty-two. The mother died in 1901. They were the parents of the following named children: Eliza, R. P., Thomas D., Sarah, Overton, Mary, John M, Joseph G. and William.

Our subject received a good educational training in the public and private schools of his native place and when nineteen enlisted in the Rebellion and served three years. This service was fraught with all the hardships and trying incidents of a soldier of that period. He was captured by the enemy at Fort Donelson, and served seven months at Port Morton, after which he was exchanged and fought at Raymond, Missionary Ridge, Chickamauga, Atlanta, and in various other battles and skirmishes. Following the war, he went to Ft. Henry and in 1876 removed to Texas, whence a decade later he removed to Spokane county, Washington. The same year Mr. Jared came to the Calispell valley, settled on unsurveyed land and since that time has devoted himself to general farming and stock raising. He has been amply prospered on account of his industry and close attention to business and now owns two hundred and fifty acres of land, over half of which is good meadow. He has nearly one hundred head of cattle, while the estate is well supplied with buildings and other improvements. Mr. Jared has always taken a keen interest in local matters and was the second assessor of the real estate in range 42 east of the Willamette meridian in his township.

In April, 1866, Mr. Jared married Miss Sarah A., daughter of John and Martha (Denton) Campbell, natives of Tennessee, where they remained until their decease. Mrs. Jared has the following named brothers and sisters, Chestina, James, Delia, Martha, Isaac and Jesse. To Mr. and Mrs. Jared there have been born six children, Emmet, deceased, Martha, William, John, Thomas and Mallia. Politically Mr. Jared is a Democrat. He took the first census of the valley, was the second assessor, the first justice of the peace, and in this capacity he is still acting, having been six years in that office. Mr. Jared helped to organize the first district in this part of the county, and it was twenty miles wide by sixty long. Mr. Jared is a man of excellent standing, is popular among the people and has always shown marked uprightness and principle."

Notes for Sarah Ann Campbell:
Sarah Ann Campbell

Sarah had six children. Her first born, son Emmet, died before 1880. Although her daughter Martha is not mentioned as deceased in her husband's biography of the late 1890's, Martha was not enumerated in the 1880 census and is assumed to be deceased prior to that date.

Robert Payne Jared and Sarah Ann Campbell had the following children:

- i. EMMET<sup>6</sup> JARED was born about 1868 in Tennessee. He died before 1870 in Tennessee.
- ii. WILLIAM CAMPBELL JARED was born on 04 Jul 1871 in Tennessee. He died on 16 Oct 1945 in Lone, Pend Oreille Co., Wash. (age 74). He married Lillie Huguenin about 1900 in Washington. She was born in May 1879 in Massachusetts. She died on 21 Dec 1965 in Pend Oreille Co., Wash. (age 86).

Notes for William Campbell Jared:

William Campbell Jared was born July 4, 1871 in Tennessee, the second of six children born to Robert Payne Jared and Sarah Ann Campbell. He was the great grandson of William West Jared and Elizabeth Roulston. The family moved to Texas and then to the state of Washington.

About 1900 in Washington, William married Lillie Huguenin. The couple farmed. No children were born to their union. In 1910 his widowed brother Thomas was living with him.

Her sister Sarah married Albert Jared. It was probably through this marriage that Margaret met Albert's brother, Archibald Wirt Jared, whom she married May 20, 1886 in Smith County, Tennessee. Nine children were born to Margaret and Archibald. Many of their children died young. Daughter Flora, born in 1900, died at 10 months. Archibald preceded her in death in 1905 at the age of 39. Tragedy struck the family again on December 28, 1915 when three of her children, son Albert and daughters Hixie and Sarah, all drowned in a creek in Trousdale County, Tennessee. Death certificates for the children did not state how the drownings occurred. Being late December, they may have been ice skating and fell through.

In 1920 Margaret was living with her elderly mother in Smith County, Tennessee. She likely remained with her mother until her mother's death in 1922. Margaret then moved to Trousdale County where she lived with or near her daughter, Mrs. Susie Stinson.

29 Oct 1877 in Logan Co., Ark. (age 47).

Notes for James Cross Roulston:

James Cross Roulston was born June 3, 1823 in Marion County, Tennessee, the eldest of twelve children born to William O. Roulston and Priscilla Ann Cross.

About 1849 in Tennessee, James married Eliza Jane Russell. In the 1850 census they were enumerated in Jackson County, Alabama, residing next door to James's parents. The couple began their family before migrating westward to Arkansas sometime between 1854 and 1858. In 1857 John, their fourth child, died at the age of seven months. They first resided in Randolph County and then moved to Yell County, Arkansas. James appears in the 1868 Voters List of Yell County as J. C. Roulston, age 46, and lists his occupation as blacksmith. The area of Yell County where the Roulston family lived became part of the newly formed Sarber County in 1871. Sarber County was then renamed to Logan County in 1875. They would remain there for the rest of their lives. The last of their five children was born in 1858.

James, 53, died on February 1, 1877 in Logan County, Arkansas, and was buried at the Elizabeth Hall Cemetery in New Blaine, Logan County, Arkansas. His wife died in the Fall of that same year and was buried along side her husband. She was 47 at the time of her death. Their grave was unmarked until 1983. James and his wife were survived by four of their five children: daughters Mrs. Lennie Copeland and Mrs. Martha Vassaur, and sons Robert and Henry.

James Cross Roulston and Eliza Jane Russell had the following children:

- i. LINNIE PRISCILLA<sup>6</sup> ROULSTON was born on 01 Jun 1850 in Marion Co., Tenn.. She died on 19 Jan 1931 in Hominy, Osage Co., Ok. (age 81). She married Doctor Gennings Copeland, son of Barryman Copeland and Elizabeth Cowan, about 1871 in Arkansas. He was born on 22 Mar 1845 in York Co., S.C.. He died on 12 Aug 1935 in Osage Co., Ok. (age 90).

Notes for Linnie Priscilla Roulston:

Linnie Priscilla Roulston was born June 1, 1850 in Marion County, Tennessee, the eldest of five children born to James Cross Roulston and Eliza Jane Russell. In the 1850 census she was enumerated as Malinda. Her early childhood was spent in Alabama and Tennessee until the family removed to Arkansas during the 1860's, eventually settling in Logan County.

About 1871, probably in Logan County, Arkansas, Linnie married Mr. Doctor Gennings Copeland. The couple had four children, two sons and two daughters. The family lived in Arkansas until 1900. By 1910 they had removed to Osage County, Oklahoma.

Linnie, 81, preceded her husband in death on January 19, 1931 in Hominy, Osage County, Oklahoma, and was buried in the A. J. Powell Memorial Cemetery in Hominy. She was survived by Gennings, her husband of some 60 years.

Notes for Doctor Gennings Copeland:

Doctor Gennings Copeland was born March 22, 1844 or 1845 in York County, South Carolina, the son of Barryman Copeland and Elizabeth Cowan. His mother was from Ireland. "Doctor" was his given name and not a title. He was enumerated as Jennings Copeland in the 1870 census of Upper Lafave Township in Yell County, Arkansas. The area was serviced by the Bluffton Post Office. Jennings was 22 years of age, born in South Carolina, and worked on the farm of his invalid mother, Elizabeth Copeland. Elizabeth was born in Mississippi. Jennings (or Jennings) first name is found as "Dactor" in the 1910 census. He may have had the given name of Doctor, a title sometimes used as a first name.

About 1871, probably in Logan County, Arkansas, Doctor married Linnie Priscilla Roulston. Four children were born to the couple. Between 1900 and 1910, he, his wife, and their youngest daughter had moved to Osage County, Oklahoma. They were enumerated in the 1910 census of that county, living with the eldest of their two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Morgan. His wife Linnie preceded him in death on January 19, 1931 in Hominy, Osage County, Oklahoma, at the age of 81.

She died on 14 Feb 1928 in Delaware, Logan Co., Ark. (age 66).

Notes for Robert Patton Roulston:

Robert Patton Roulston was born January 8, 1852 in Marion County, Tennessee, the second of five children born to James Cross Roulston and Eliza Jane Russell. There are some references that his middle name was "Patrick." Robert's early childhood was spent in his native county of Marion. Then in the 1850's, his father moved the family westward into Arkansas where they would finally settle in Yell County in the western region of the State. On March 22, 1871 the area of Yell County where the family lived became part of the newly formed Sarber County. Sarber County was renamed as Logan County on December 14, 1875.

On November 22, 1877 in Logan County, Arkansas, Robert, age 25, married Nancy Melvina White, age 16. His younger brother "Clay" lived with them for several years. The couple resided in a place known as Wildcat Hollow where they raised a family of nine children; two other children were born but died as infants.

In the 1920 census of Delaware Township in Logan County, Arkansas, Robert, his wife, and their two youngest daughters were enumerated. Close by was their daughter Martha, Mrs. George W. Bowman.

From the family oral history: "R. P. Raulston [Roulston] kept bees and had a blacksmith shop out back. When people got sick or hurt, they came to him because he had studied medical books. They used the stars to give medicine by. R. P. knew all about the moon and constellations, and used to point them out to the grandchildren. He loved music and books. Usually the school teachers for Wildcat Hollow stayed at his house. Robert P. was a farmer who hunted for his meat."

Robert was residing in or near Delaware, Logan County, Arkansas, on February 14, 1928 when his wife of some 50 years died at the age of 66. She was buried in the Elizabeth Hall Cemetery in the neighboring city of New Blaine. In 1930 Robert, age 78, was enumerated with his daughter, Mrs. Nettie Bowman. By 1940 Robert had moved in with his son John Cecil Roulston, a resident of Logan County, Arkansas.

Robert, 92, died on March 11, 1944 in Delaware, Logan County, Arkansas and was buried as Robert P. Roulston in the Elizabeth Hall Cemetery in Logan County. On the same day as Robert's death his eldest child, Mrs. Eliza Fowler, also died. His daughter Mrs. Maggie Lasater had preceded him in death in 1930.

Notes for Nancy Melvina White:

Nancy Melvina White was born November 11, 1861 in Texas, the daughter of Richman Lee White. Nancy was enumerated with her father and siblings in the 1870 census of Shoal Creek Township in Johnson County, Arkansas. Her father's wife was Elizabeth. Elizabeth may not be Nancy's mother, as Elizabeth was only about 14 years of age when Nancy was born. The area of Johnson County where the family resided became part of the newly formed county of Logan on March 22, 1871.

On November 22, 1877 in Logan County, Arkansas, Nancy married Robert Patton Roulston. Eleven children were born to the couple. Two infants for Nancy and Robert were buried in the Elizabeth Hall Cemetery. Neither headstone is dated.

Nancy, 66, preceded her husband in death on February 14, 1928 in Delaware, Logan County, Arkansas and was buried in the Elizabeth Hall Cemetery in Logan County, Arkansas.

From the family oral history as related by Nancy's daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Bunce: "She knitted, also used spinning wheel, but it was more necessity than hobby." Nancy was "small, dark complected [complexion], and she went blind in late years. Grandma was blind seven years before she died.

Nancy had a marble-top table she thought a lot of, and they moved it from Texas in a covered wagon. After Robert P. died in 1944, his son, William Robert (Bob), had their names and dates put on it and mounted it as a tombstone in Elizabeth Hall Cemetery."

Also living with the family was "Jeef Mitchel," brother-in-law, and two grandchildren: Etta (age 8, born Tennessee) and Pauline (age 7, born Tennessee) Mitchell. Since the two Mitchell girls were enumerated as grandchildren, it is uncertain as to whether Jeef Mitchell was a brother-in-law or a son-in-law, but William's only daughter, Maggy was enumerated as single. Jeef was most likely from William's wife's side of the family. William and his wife were last enumerated in the 1930 census of Bridgeport, Jackson County, Alabama. At the time of the census his cousin Billie Raulston, age 62, was living with him.

William's date of death is unknown. William was buried in the Mount Carmel Cemetery in Bridgeport, Jackson County, Alabama. His tombstone is marked only with his initials, W.H.T., and no dates.

Albert L. Raulston Dies Early Friday

Albert L. Raulston, 61, who had been employed for many years in timber operations, died at 3 a.m. Friday at the home of his sister, Mrs. W. H. Cooper, 2410 Selma Avenue, as the result of a fall from a railroad trestle late Thursday afternoon.

Raulston was seen floundering in the waters of Valley Creek, under the Southern railroad trestle upstream from the Marion Junction road, was pulled from the water by E. D. Cardwell, assisted by Negroes who happened to be passing along the railroad. A police car was called to Hatfield's Store to transport Mr. Raulston to the home of his sister, as he apparently had not suffered any serious injuries. Later he was visited by a physician, and the serious results of the fall caused death within a short time.

Born in Bridgeport, Ala., he had been a resident of that section of the state for some years, working in the timber industry. Surviving are one son, Lester Raulston, of Little Rock, Ark.; two sisters, Mrs. W. H. Cooper, Selma, and Mrs. Hugh Walker, Bridgeport, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Her husband Brice died in 1898. It is uncertain as to where the family was residing at the time of his death. They may have already removed to the Indian Territory of Oklahoma prior to his death. The widowed Eliza was enumerated in the 1900 census of Duncan, Chickasaw Nation, Indian Territory (now Stephens County, Oklahoma). Although census data confirms that she had at least ten children, she only reports to having given birth to nine children, seven of which were still living at the time of the census.

Three other children attributed to Eliza and Brice are Burgie, Cordelia and Wesley. "Burgie" is probably a nickname for their son Brice and "Cordelia" a name for their daughter Delia. Wesley is not found in any of the censuses, perhaps having been born and died between censuses.

In 1930 Eliza was living in Tulsa, Oklahoma with her youngest daughter Mrs. Marie Garrett. In 1940 she was living in Oklahoma City with her daughter Ms. Lou Ann Radley who was divorced.

Eliza is reported to have died in 1942. Her places of death and burial are unknown.

It is assumed that his wife Martha provided the census information, she may not have known the birth places of her husband's parents.

On October 23, 1865 in Marion County, Tennessee, Samuel married Ann Byrne Roulston, his first cousin. In 1870 they lived next door to his younger brother Evander. Samuel and Ann had seven children, five sons and two daughters. However, three of the five boys and one of the two daughters died as infants. Their only surviving daughter died at the age of 19, leaving Samuel and Ann with only two sons. Of these sons, only their eldest son, William, married and had children. Unlike the majority of their children, Samuel and Ann survived the perils of rural Tennessee and lived to old age.

Samuel, 69, died Friday, September 11, 1908 in Marion County, Tennessee, and was buried as Samuel H. Roulston in the Bean-Roulston Graveyard in Sweeden's Cove, Marion County, Tennessee. Besides his wife, Samuel was survived by two of his six children, sons William and Samuel.

Samuel Houston Raulston and Ann Byrne Roulston had the following children:

- i. WILLIAM RUSSELL<sup>6</sup> RAULSTON was born on 27 Jun 1868 in Marion Co., Tenn.. He died on 23 Aug 1926 in Marion Co., Tenn. (age 58). He married Martha Russell Beene, daughter of Matthew Wynn Beene and Ann Byron Beene, about 1889 in Marion Co., Tenn.. She was born on 15 Jul 1868 in Marion Co., Tenn.. She died on 03 Sep 1948 (age 80).

Notes for William Russell Raulston:

William "Will" Russell Raulston was born June 27, 1868 in Marion County, Tennessee, the eldest of seven children born to first cousins, Samuel Houston Raulston and Ann Byrne Roulston. Three of his younger brothers died as infants, and his only sister died at the age of 19. William's only surviving sibling was his younger brother, Samuel, who was mentally ill and never married.

About 1889 in Marion County, Tennessee, William married his second cousin, Martha Russell Beene. Four children were born to the couple. The first years of their married life were spent in their home county of Marion. Sometime after 1890 they removed to Newton County, Arkansas. William had an older first cousin, Henry W. Roulston, who had moved to Newton County just prior to the 1870 census. His cousin removed to Texas and may have left Arkansas before William and his family arrived. William and his family were enumerated in the 1900 census of Newton County as Roulston, perhaps because his cousin used that spelling. At the time of the 1900 census, four children had been born to the couple, but one child had died. By 1910 William had moved his family back to South Pittsburg, Marion County, Tennessee. Living with the family in 1910 was William's only surviving sibling, his brother, Harve Raulston. The family was enumerated in the 1920 census of District 6 of Madison County, Tennessee:

The grandchildren were from their widowed son, Everett Byrne Raulston.

William, 58, died Monday, August 23, 1926 in Marion County, Tennessee, and was buried in the Beene-Roulston Graveyard in Sweeten's Cove, Marion County, Tennessee. He was survived by his wife Martha, three of his four children, and his brother, Samuel.

Martha's husband preceded her in death in 1926, and the widowed Martha was enumerated in the 1930 census of Loudon, Loudon County, Tennessee with two of her grandchildren:

In the same cemetery on Find-A-Grave is a memorial for Lemuel Thomas Raulston with the same dates as Samuel T. Roulston, but there is no photograph of a tombstone. They are believed to be the same person and would imply that Samuel's middle name was Thomas.

- iv. SAMUEL HARVEY RAULSTON was born on 28 Jan 1877 in Marion Co., Tenn.. He died on 06 Jul 1938 in Knoxville, Knox Co., Tenn. (age 61).

About 1922 Harvey became a patient at the Eastern State Hospital in Knoxville, Knox County, Tennessee. He was enumerated as a patient there in the 1930.

About 1868** in Tennessee, Lilly married Evander McKeever Raulston. Six children were born to the couple.

Josephine, 29, died on August 4, 1882 and was buried in the Bean-Roulston Graveyard in Jasper, Marion County, Tennessee.

** Their date of marriage is estimated based on the birth of their first known child. The couple may have married two years earlier. There may have been a seventh child born to the couple, who would have been their first born child. In the Bean-Roulston Graveyard is a tombstone inscribed "infant daughter P M & Josephine Raulston 1867." The "P" in the inscription is not clearly visible, and there is some speculation that the "P" might be an "E", making this infant the daughter of Evander McKeever & Lilly Josephine Raulston.

Notes for Robert S. Raulston:

Robert S. Raulston was born about 1853 in Marion County, Tennessee, the eleventh of fourteen children born to Samuel W. Raulston and Mildred Beene. His father died in 1866 when Robert was but twelve or thirteen years of age. By the time of the 1870 census, Robert, age 15, was the eldest of the sons remaining at home and was working the family farm. He had ample support as his paternal uncle Evander Roulston and maternal uncle Samuel Beene lived on either side of the farm.

About 1875 in Marion County, Tennessee, Robert married Ann Elizabeth Hise, and the couple had three children. The family was enumerated in the 1880 census of District 9 of Marion County, Tennessee:

|                    |          |   |    |           |
|--------------------|----------|---|----|-----------|
| Robert S. Roulston | Head     | M | 25 | Tennessee |
| Juan F. Roulston   | Wife     | F | 27 | Tennessee |
| Stella Roulston    | Daughter | F | 3  | Tennessee |
| Maud Roulston      | Daughter | F | 1  | Tennessee |

Son Walter was born in October of 1881.

Robert died in the early 1880's, and his wife followed him in death within a few years, orphaning their three children. Some years later, their daughter, Mrs. Stella Dietzen, placed a memorial stone in the Bean-Roulston Graveyard for her parents. There were no dates on the stone.

Notes for Ann Elizabeth Hise:

Ann Elizabeth "Bessie" Hise was born about 1854 in Marion County, Tennessee, the daughter of Lemuel Hise and Elizabeth Simons.

The family oral history, as told by her great grandson Joe Ed Dietzen, tells of Ann's mother, Elizabeth "Betsy" Simons of Charleston, South Carolina, eloping with Lemuel Hise of Texas. They had the one child, Ann Elizabeth Hise, before Lemuel died.

About 1875 in Marion County, Tennessee, Ann married Robert Raulston. He died about 1882 in his late 20's, and Ann died a few years, orphaning their three children. The three children, Stella, Maude and Walter, were reared by their maternal grandmother, Betsy Hise, in South Carolina. However, there seems to be some discrepancy or at least question in the family oral history as these three children appear in Tennessee as adults and not in South Carolina as one might expect.

Ann's date of death is unknown. Her daughter Stella erected a tombstone for her mother in the Bean-Roulston Graveyard in Jasper, Marion County, Tennessee. There are no dates on the tombstone. Ann may have initially been buried in an unmarked or poorly marked grave.

Robert S. Raulston and Ann Elizabeth Hise had the following children:

- i. STELLA<sup>6</sup> RAULSTON was born on 22 Oct 1876 in Marion Co., Tenn.. She died on 16 Aug 1936 in South Pittsburg, Marion Co., Tenn. (age 59). She married Joseph Nicholas Dietzen, son of Matthias Dietzen and Mary M. Kollembach, about 1893 in Marion Co., Tenn.. He was born on 31 Mar 1869 in Tennessee. He died on 28 Apr 1940 in Chattanooga, Hamilton Co., Tenn. (age 71).

Notes for Stella Raulston:

Stella Raulston was born October 22, 1876 in Marion County, Tennessee, the eldest of three children born to Robert S. Raulston and Ann Elizabeth Hise.

About 1893 in Marion County, Tennessee, Stella married Joseph Nicholas Dietzen. The couple resided in Marion County throughout their lives and raised a family of ten children. Their son William died in 1904 at the age of three, but the remaining nine children grew to adulthood, married, and produced grandchildren for Stella and Joseph.

Stella, 59, died of colon cancer on August 16, 1936 in South Pittsburg, Marion County, Tennessee, and was buried in the Cumberland View Cemetery in Kimball, Marion County, Tennessee. She was survived by her husband and nine of her ten children. Also surviving were her brother and sister.

Notes for Joseph Nicholas Dietzen:

Joseph "Joe" Nicholas Dietzen was born March 31, 1869 in Tennessee, the eldest son of nine children born to Matthias Dietzen and Mary M. Kollembach. Joseph worked as a coal dealer, general farmer, and dairy farmer.

About 1893 in Marion County, Tennessee, Joseph, age 24, married Stella Raulston, age 16. Ten children were born to their union. His wife preceded him in death in 1936.

James Scott Lockhart was born January 17, 1896 in Van Buren, Crawford County, Arkansas, the youngest surviving of seven children attributed to William Dixon Lafayette Lockhart and Mary Elizabeth "Lizzie" Raulston. He was known by his middle name, Scott.

Scott served in the U.S. Marine Corps during World War I. He was discharge on March 5, 1919.

On June 15, 1919 in Sebastian County, Arkansas, Scott, age 23, married Grace Lee Haile, age 24. Their only child, daughter Helen, was born after the 1920 census.

Elizabeth W. Beene was born in July of 1879 in Tennessee, the second of three daughters born to Samuel Jackson Beene and Annie E. Wrightman. She was the granddaughter of Owen Russell Beene and Martha Raulston. Her middle initial "W" was probably Wrightman, her mother's maiden name. By 1900 her parents had separated and divorced, and her father remarried. There were no children born to her father's second marriage.

About 1903 in Memphis, Shelby County, Tennessee, Elizabeth married Franklin "Frank" Benson Whitaker. Two children were born to the couple. The family was enumerated in the 1910 census of Memphis:

Frank Benson Whitaker was born January 4, 1880 in Mobile County, Alabama, the son of Edward and Kate S. Whitaker. In the 1900 census Frank and his brother William were residing with their older brother Edward in Memphis, Tennessee. Frank's month or year of birth is likely not January 1880 as found in the 1900 census since he was not enumerated in the 1880 census with his family. His age in censuses imply that he was likely born in 1881.

About 1903 in Memphis, Shelby County, Tennessee, Frank married Elizabeth W. Beene. Two children are known to have been born to the couple. At the time of the 1910 census, his widowed mother-in-law was living with them.

History of the Sixth Circuit:

"Leslie Rogers Darr, son of Rev. Joseph A. Darr, a Methodist minister and editor, and Rebecca Jane (Rogers) Darr, was born November 8, 1886, in Jasper, Tennessee. He received a general education at Pryor Institute, a junior college, in Jasper. After graduation he worked as a truck farmer, a store clerk and later as editor of the county newspaper. From these efforts he managed to accumulate enough money to pay for his education at the law school of Cumberland University at Lebanon, Tennessee, where he graduated with his Bachelor of Laws degree in 1909.

After admittance to the Tennessee bar in 1910, Darr opened a law office in his hometown of Jasper, Tennessee. Considered an ambitious man who aspired to a place on the bench, he became the Democratic candidate for Judge of the 18th Judicial Circuit of Tennessee. Elected in 1926, he remained on the state bench until 1959, when he was appointed to the federal bench.

Originally the appointment to the "roving" judgeship for the Eastern and Middle Districts of Tennessee was given to W. Baxter Lee who was nominated and confirmed by the Senate, but died before he could take the oath of office. Both Tennessee Senators then gave Darr their endorsement for the judgeship. President Franklin D. Roosevelt appointed Darr to the United States District Court for the Eastern and Middle Districts of Tennessee, on June 2, 1939, but Judge Darr never exercised his jurisdiction in the Middle District.

On November 25, 1949, Judge Darr became Chief Judge of the Eastern District and served in that capacity until March 15, 1961, when he assumed Senior status. He continued to serve the court as a Senior Judge until his death. As a jurist, he had a nationwide reputation. He decided a number of case of first impression, setting precedents approved by the appellate court. He was only very occasionally reversed. He remained active and served not only in his district, but also by designation on the benches of the Sixth Circuit, the United States Court of Claims, and in several other circuits throughout the country.

Judge Darr was active in professional and community organizations. He held memberships in the American Judicature Society, Tennessee Bar Association, Chattanooga Bar Association, the Civitan Club (president, 1944-1945), and Masons (32

Notes for Horace M. Holdsworth:
Obituary, undisclosed source:

It is with a sad heart that I chronicle the very sudden and unexpected death of Mr. Horace Holdsworth, one of our best known and beloved citizens. While cutting down a tree between Altamont and Tracy City last Friday evening, a falling limb struck him in the breast, killing him instantly. The remains arrived here last Saturday afternoon and he was buried Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at Raulston's graveyard, surrounded by his family and friends. Mr. Holdsworth was 48 years of age, a kind and loving father, an affectionate husband, and numbered his friends by the score. He was universally loved and esteemed by all who knew him, and his sudden demise has cast a gloom over our little settlement. It was sad, indeed, for his loving brother, [Mr. N. B. Holdsworth of Fort Wayne, Indiana] who had not seen him for ten years had come on a visit the evening of his death, and was going to take him by surprise. The bereaved family has the heartfelt sympathies of all in their sad trouble.

On July 13, 1913 in Walker County, Georgia, Luther married Fannie Bell Thornburg [Thornbury]. Fannie had a son prior to their marriage. In 1917 Luther was working in Marietta, Washington County, Ohio. He was living in the St. Charles Hotel without his wife and child. He then returned to Tennessee prior to 1920. During the 1920 census Luther's younger brother Orlando was living with them. The family was enumerated in the 1930 census of Chattanooga, Hamilton County, Tennessee with two unrelated foster children:

|                     |        |        |    |                            |

| Robert Traylor      | Lodger | M      | 6  | Tennessee [foster child]   |

In the 1940 census they had another foster child, Jack Traylor, age 20. In 1940 Luther and his brother Orlando, who lived nearby, both worked as foremen at an enamel company.

Luther, 75, died September 2, 1962 in Saint Elmo, Hamilton County, Tennessee, and was buried in the Forest Hills Cemetery in Chattanooga, Hamilton County, Tennessee. He was survived by his wife and stepson. Also surviving were his two sisters, Flora and Emily.

Notes for Fannie Bell Thornbury:

Fannie Thornbury was born June 24, 1891 in Valley Head, DeKalb County, Alabama, one of four children born to Albert S. and Sallie Thornbury. Fannie's mother had married the widower Albert S. Thornbury, an older gentleman, who had children from a previous marriage. Fannie's father died in 1895. The family was enumerated in the 1900 census of De Kalb County, Alabama:

|                  |          |   |    |                   |
|------------------|----------|---|----|-------------------|
| Sallie Thornbury | Head     | F | 35 | Alabama (widowed) |
| Chas W Thornbury | Stepson  | M | 25 | Alabama           |
| Jesse Thornbury  | Stepson  | M | 16 | Alabama           |

| Fannie Thornbury | Daughter | F | 8  | Alabama           |
| Newton Thornbury | Son      | M | 5  | Alabama           |

The older three children were Fannie's step-brothers. Fannie had one full-brother, Newton. She also had two other siblings that had died in infancy as her mother reported having had four children, two surviving. These infants or children were likely buried in the Whitehall Cemetery in Valley Head, DeKalb County, Alabama where Fannie's father and his first wife were buried.

In 1908 Fannie had a son born out of wedlock. By 1910 Fannie was on her own, having moved to Chattanooga, Hamilton County, Tennessee. Her son, Fernwood, remained with Fannie's mother in Georgia.

On July 13, 1913 in Walker County, Georgia, Fannie married Luther Ernest Raulston. No children were born to the couple, but the couple is known to have taken in foster children. Her husband preceded her in death in 1962.

Fannie, 89, died September 1, 1980 in Saint Elmo, Hamilton County, Tennessee and joined her husband in the Forest Hills Cemetery in Chattanooga, Hamilton County.

Notes for Mary Ann Beene:

Mary A. Beene was born July 28, 1857 in Marion County, Tennessee, the second of eight children born to first cousins, once removed, Matthew Wynn Beene and Anna A. Byron.

Her husband was previously married and had two children. They, along with the three children Lorena gave birth to, were enumerated in the 1910 census of Marion County, Tennessee, but in this census Lorena was listed as having had three children, two living.

As did her parents, Lorena died early in life. She preceded her husband in death on January 3, 1921 at the age of 39 and was buried in the Bean-Roulston Graveyard in Sweeten's Cove, Marion County, Tennessee. Besides her husband and children, she was survived by her older sister, Cora.

The Beene family was enumerated in the 1880 census when Lemuel was but 5 years of age. Shortly after the census, Lemuel's mother died. Lemuel's youngest sister died the following year. His father then married Amanda E. Raulston, a first cousin, once removed. From his father's second marriage Lemuel had two half-brothers and two half-sisters.

On September 9, 1898 in Whitfield County, Georgia, Lemuel married Jessie Carlock, the first of three wives. In the 1900 census George, his wife Jessie, and their first born child were enumerated. Living with the young family were Jessie's father and stepmother. Living next door to the them was Lemuel's half-sister Mrs. Belle Anderson. His wife Jessie gave birth to two children before she died September 24, 1901 at the age of 22.

About 1904 in Tennessee, George married Lorena E. Raulston, his second cousin. Three children were born to the couple. The family was enumerated in the 1910 census of Marion County with the surname spelled as "Buns":

Sometime after her death, but before 1930, George married a woman named Martha. No children are known from their marriage. The couple was enumerated in the 1930 census of South Pittsburg in Marion County, Tennessee:

THOMAS M. HENSON

The late Thomas M. Henson was one of Butler county's most picturesque characters, an active figure in public life and a man of exceptional vitality from the time of his arrival in the county on November 9, 1898 until his death on January 17, 1937.

Thomas Henson was the youngest son of Mr. And Mrs. Lazarus Henson and was born in Monroe county, Tennessee on November 22, 1846. One of his earliest recollections of his boyhood days occurred when he was but six years of age and the experience encountered resulted in total abstinence from intoxicating liquors throughout his lifetime. When an uncle was a candidate for sheriff of Monroe county Tennessee in 1852 he was asked to take a taste of a beverage known as "stew" which rendered him intoxicated in a short time. He went to his home and his mother assured him he would have to have a whipping for his actions. He asked her to refrain and promised to never taste any more liquor as long as he lived. In an interview a few years ago, Mr. Henson said "Mother and I shook hands on that promise which I have kept all my life."

Lazarus Henson and his wife were proud of their family of three girls and four boys. Thomas was the youngest of the seven children. He was born on a farm and resided on a farm most of his life. His father fought in the war of 1812 and died when Thomas was still a boy leaving the task of rearing a family to his wife who handled the job remarkably well.

Thomas stayed at home until he was 21 years of age when he went to Marion county, Tennessee where he grubbed sprouts for 60 cents a day, split rails and finally accumulated enough money to buy 320 acres of farm land near Jasper, Tennessee.

Thomas Henson and Miss Nancy Jane Raulston were married in Marion county, Tennessee on December 1, 1875. Of this union, eight sons were born before Mr. And Mrs. Henson moved to Butler county on November 9, 1898. Mr. Henson wanted to buy more land to divide among his sons but Tennessee land prices at that time were prohibitive and the family decided to move to Missouri. The Hensons first came to Poplar Bluff and then moved to farm land in the Cane Creek district. Mr. Henson, a life long Republican, lived through the administration of Abraham Lincoln. Many of his earlier friends, especially those in Tennessee, talked unkindly about the man who became known in history as the Great Emancipator. A few years ago Mr. Henson said, "The folks back there did not realize what a great man Abraham Lincoln was and it seems like a man has to die before he is appreciated no matter how great he might be or what he might have done for his country."

In Mr. Henson's earlier life there was no printed ballots. Voters wrote down their choice for office on a piece of paper and submitted it on election day. Schools were scarce then, too, the only school Mr. Henson having attended was a subscription school. One dollar per month for each pupil was the charge for attending the subscription schools which, Mr. Henson said, were Blabb schools because all the children studied out loud.

Mr. Henson became a great reader, especially after his retirement from the farm when he moved to Poplar Bluff in 1919. He read the New Testament twice through in 1935 and devoted much of his time in his declining years to improving his mind by study, chiefly the Bible. When his 90th birthday was celebrated Mr. Henson was host to friends and relatives from several states, some of them coming from Tennessee and Georgia. He had planned the celebration for several years. Mr. Henson died two months later on January 17, 1937 from pneumonia.

With a very limited education himself, Mr. Henson saw to it that his eight sons were given every opportunity for higher education. The eight sons born to Mr. And Mrs. Thomas Henson were L. N. Henson, J. L. Henson, R. A. Henson, Walter Henson, D. O. Henson, Matt W. Henson and two other sons who died in infancy.

Thomas Montague Henson and Nancy Jane Roulston had the following children:

From the family oral history as told by his great grandson, David A. Allen: "... Abe had an interesting start in life during the Civil War being named Abraham Lincoln by his father and living in Tennessee. There were threats on his young life, and his sisters had to take him out in the woods and hide with him in a hollow log (sometimes for days) when confederates or the "bushwhackers" were around. When the Union gained control of the area, some of the soldiers gave him gold pieces because of his name, which I am sure helped the family out in their situation."

In the 1880 Census of South Pittsburg, Marion County, Tennessee, Abraham was in the company of a couple of his older cousins; they were all working as laborers.
